California Civil Defense Zeros In On Survival Problems

DOWN WE GO — William T. Del Molin, left, of Hercules Fallout Shelter Co., Santa Rosa, and fellow worker begin descent into tube-type fallout shelter which they manufacture; to be shown at 650 Irwin Street, San Rafael, beginning Friday.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Coastal California, with its many prime targets, has shown a sudden upsurge in the business of staying alive in this nuclear age. Is the state prepared for an emergency? What are your chances for survival, and what are civil defense officials doing about it? These and other prime questions are answered in a three-part series beginning today.)

(First in a series.)
By AUSTIN SCOTT

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A light glows red in the communications room of the California Disaster Office, nine miles south of the Capitol building in Sacramento.

The duty officer knows that light means a nuclear attack is less than 15 minutes away.

Quickly, urgently, he walks to a special telephone, places his finger on a red number and dials. And then — assuming present plans are pushed through—this is what will happen:

An instant alert flashed the fateful word throughout California—to local civil defense officials, law enforcement agencies and schools, public offices and major industries, radio stations and fire departments.

A low cost alarm goes off in every California home. Outside, air raid sirens sound. Police begin clearing the streets.

The public is quickly alerted. Children in school file to the basement shelter, built under every school in the state.

Mothers and children at home head for the nearest school. There, they find other members of their families, food, shelter, trained doctors and nurses, medical supplies and other necessities.

Men at work go to basement shelters in public buildings, or at the nearest school. All shelters will have been stocked with food and medicine by the state, and trained personnel will be on hand.

Within two weeks, even though a dozen nuclear warheads had scored direct hits on strategic California targets, most of the state's 16.4 million citizens are out of their shel-

'BIG AS YOU WANT'

Tube-Type Shelter Going On Display

A sample of a tube-type fallout shelter, a prefabricated shell of seven-gauge steel eight feet in diameter and stretching to "as long as people want," will go on display in San Rafael Friday.

The pipe-shaped device, being made in sizes of 8-by-8 feet ("big enough for four persons") to 8-by-20 feet ("to hold 10"), is manufactured by Hercules Fallout Shelter Co. of Santa Rosa.

The shelters will be offered for sale by Econo-Mart of Marin, Inc., headed by Ben Brown, at 650 Irwin Street, San Rafael, where an 8-by-12-foot-size sample will be shown.

The location is where Pyramid Plywood Co. used to be. Brown said he was listed erroneously is the Sept. 27 Independent-Journal as owner of Pyramid, with which he said he never was connected. It recently went out of business.

Brown and William H. Del Molin of Hercules Fallout Shelter Co. said the 8-by-12 foot size ("for six persons") is the most popular.

"We'll build them as long as people want them to be," Del Molin said.

Del Molin exhibited a photostatic copy of a recent letter from Conrad H. Zimmerman, director of the plans and operations office of the Office of Civil Defense in Santa Rosa, to himself and J. R. Haskins of Hercules. The letter said, in part:

"This shelter is accepted by the Office of Civil Defense as providing an almost absolute degree of protection against radioactive fallout."

The shelter comes equipped with everything except food and water.

AUSTIN SAYS HE'LL BUILD A-SHELTER

Retired College President Makes Up Mind After Attending CD Course

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Ward H. Austin, retired president of College of Marin, after attending a one-week course on fallout shelters which included staying overnight in one with 84 persons, has decided to build his own shelter in his back yard.

Austin completed the course last Friday at the Western Instructor Training Center of the Office of Civilian Defense in Alameda. The course offered classes including radiation studies, chemical and biological warfare, fundamentals of shielding, shelter systems and building and zoning codes.

Feature of the course was an overnight stay in a 24-by-48-foot shelter for the 85 students.

The shelter used for the course is located at Camp Parks, a Naval training base during World War II, 15 miles east of Oakland. The shelter, three feet underground, has a cement floor and steel walls and ceiling. It is equipped with sanitary facilities.

Austin's main complaint during the 16-hour stay in the shelter was of temperature and humidity.

"I missed the ability to open a window and get a breath of fresh air," said Austin. Other inconveniences he noted were the lack of privacy, noise created with 85 persons talking in the small area, and the sleeping conditions.

The beds in the shelter consisted of sheets of canvas stretched across the room with metal pipes separating each person's section—24 inches wide. There were five layers of this canvas used for beds, making the top tier about 20 feet from the floor.

"When one person on the canvas rolled over, it was felt

Russ Chemist Tells Why He Defected

AMSTERDAM (UPI)—Russian scientist Alexei Golub said today he defected to the west because Soviet authorities made him stop his research on cancer-producing nuclear fallout. (See story page 2.)

Golub's defection turned into an international incident when fist-swinging Soviet officials, including Ambassador Panteleimon Ponomarenko, tried to hustle Golub's wife, Alexandrouna, aboard a plane to Moscow yesterday.

Dutch government sources said Holland may demand the expulsion of Ponomarenko and other Russian officials involved in the clash.

Golub, 35, told Dutch police and alien registration officials he decided to defect while on a tourist trip here because Soviet authorities hampered his research.

He said he was investigating means of removing strontium 90, which causes cancer, from the human body.

'Loneliest Island' Struck By Volcano

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI)—The 266 residents of Tristan da Cunha escaped an erupting volcano today by fleeing the "loneliest island in the world," in boats, the British Navy reported.

Black smoke hung over the island and lava flowed from the crater of the 6,700-foot volcano as the island's two fishing boats embarked the entire population and sailed to Nightingale Island, 20 miles distant.

Youths Seen Running From 2 Marin Fires

Boys were seen running from two major brush blazes late yesterday which blackened a total of 25 acres, injured three firefiremen, left a fire truck partially wrecked, and endangered several homes.

The fires blackened about 10 acres in Sleepy Hollow and 15 acres in Homestead Valley.

Fire Departments in Marin County answered 11 calls yesterday as "Fire Prevention Week" continued to be the most fire-plagued week of 1961.

The alarm for the Sleepy Hollow fire was sounded at 4:42 p.m.; that for the Homestead fire, at 5:11.

An unidentified woman told firemen she saw four boys, about 13 or 14 years old, run down a ridge in the Sleepy Hollow area, enter a car and flee as the flames broke out.

Mrs. R. S. O'Connor of 172 Edgewood Avenue, Homestead, one of the first to report the blaze there, said she saw three young boys running excitedly near the scene.

Incendiarists were blamed less than a day earlier in a blaze that blackened 15 acres between Mill Valley and Corte Madera — across Mill Valley from the Homestead fire.

Injured fighting the Homestead blaze were Douglas Anderson of Woodacre, a county fireman, who hurt his right index finger; Duane Friesen, 20, of 540 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley, a Homestead Fire Department volunteer, whose left leg was cut by barbed wire, and Edwin Booth, 18, of 175 Elm Avenue, Mill Valley, an on-the-scene volunteer who got a cinder in his eye. All received treatment at Marin General Hospital.

A Tamalpais Valley Fire Department truck, used in fighting the blaze, was extensively damaged when large rocks broke the high pressure pump, reported Fire Chief Herbert Owen.

There was injury to another fireman in a minor grass fire

COMMUNISM COURSE SET FOR SCHOOLS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state is "going ahead immediately" on preparations for teaching about Communism in California public schools starting in the next school year.

Dr. Richard M. Clowes, chief of the division of instruction of the State Department of Education, said today the state had decided that facts of Communism should be taught.

He said two committees would be appointed, one of educators and one of laymen, to guide the state in setting up the course.

The state announced in August it had decided to study whether a course on Communism should be taught in California.

"We now have decided that we should go ahead," Clowes said.

Man Charged With Aiding Prison Escape

A Redwood City window glazer will appear in Marin Municipal Court Friday on a charge that he helped a San Quentin prisoner escape on Sept. 30.

The suspect is Alvin Bud Thompson Sr., 45. Escapee Galon Warren Van Zandt, 39, a Stanislaus County car thief, was found hiding in a chicken coop at the Thompson home, Oct. 2.

Thompson's son, Alvin Bud Thompson Jr., is also in San Quentin, serving time for car theft. His wife, Frances, 21, was to be questioned today by the Marin County district attorney.

Thompson Sr. and his convict son are both accused of conspiracy to help Van Zandt escape from prison. The elder Thompson was arrested yesterday evening but released on $2,500 bail from San Mateo County Jail.

Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino and Investigator Antoan W. Adam of the district attorney's office went to Redwood City last night to question Thompson and his family.

Vallarino said he got this account of how the escape was engineered:

On Saturday, Sept. 30, Thompson Sr. and his daughter-in-law Frances visited San Quentin. Thompson made plans for the escape. That night, Thompson Sr. returned to San Quentin, drove past Hutchinson's Quarry, where on a prearranged signal Van Zandt was picked up.

Armed Raid On Ross Home Is Reported

An armed raid on a Ross home by a gunman "who looked like Frank Sinatra" came to light today.

The intruder terrorized Mrs. Frank L. Paganini and her maid at 115 Laurel Grove Avenue last Thursday. The crime became known because the Marin County sheriff's office was asked to prepare composite drawings from descriptions of the man and to put out an all-points alarm. It had been dismissed as "a hoax" in response to telephoned inquiries to the Ross police and fire station.

Ruth Dean, maid at the home, said Mrs. Paganini answered the door about 11:45 a.m. Thursday. A small, slender man about 22 to 24, with curly brown hair, wearing dark glasses, forced his way in and whipped out a "big revolver," she said.

Miss Dean fled screaming. The man, still brandishing the revolver, then confronted Mrs. Paganini and asked to see the maid's room. Finding it empty, he said repeatedly: "Where's the maid? I'm going to kill you."

He made no demand for money, said Mrs. Paganini. After a few minutes he left, driv-

Drizzles Hit Marin; More On The Way

Light drizzles hit Marin County today with heavy rains predicted by the weatherman for tonight.

A weather front moving southeastward from Fort Bragg area was expected to drop temperatures to around 50 degrees tonight, and lower the snow level to around 4,500 feet in the Siskiyou mountains and to 6,000 feet in the Sierra by tomorrow.

San Rafael recorded .01 inch of rain today. In other areas, since about 8 a.m., .14 of an inch fell in Tamalpais Valley, .01 in Belvedere and .11 at the Mount Tamalpais lookout station. Heavy fog shrouded the mountain most of the morning.

The rain was expected to extend as far south as Salinas with other parts of the state ranging from fair to cloudy. Showers may continue in the mountain areas through tomorrow. Winds reaching 25 miles an hour would accompany the rain, the weatherman predicted.

PT&T Tolls Plan In Marin Denied

PUC Says Package Deal Out

The state Public Utilities Commission today denied the request of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. to eliminate tolls on calls between San Rafael, Ignacio, Belvedere and Sausalito while increasing monthly rates.

The package "extended service" proposal would have left subscribers no option to paying increased rates.

In announcing its decision in San Francisco, the commission said it was denying without prejudice. This permits the company to file a new application for eliminating tolls between Ignacio and San Rafael, or for some form of optional "extended service."

The commission noted that the San Rafael City Council had opposed the proposal by resolution. The San Rafael Chamber of Commerce had voiced support. Though the company sought support from the county supervisors, that board found so much conflict it took no position.

The evidence, according to the commission, "is not convincing that a majority of the telephone subscribers affected would be better served or obtain their telephone service at a reduction in charges under the applicant's extended service package plan, or that a majority of affected subscribers even desire the proposed change."

It was noted that the company made its proposal on an "all or none" basis, including service to all three points from San Rafael.

$660,000 ASKED

Marin Auto Death Damage Suit Filed

A Novato couple filed a $660,000 damage suit in Marin Superior Court today for a fatal auto accident which occurred near the California Park Overpass south of San Rafael last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leff of Novato are suing for the death of their daughter, Sabra, 3, and injuries suffered by Mrs. Leff and their other daughter, Marika, now 3.

They contend the jeep station wagon which Mrs. Leff was driving had not been repaired properly, and this lack of repair caused the vehicle to go out of control and overturn.

Named as defendants are Tidewater Oil Co., Frank George of Frank's Flying A Service Station, Harold Michaels and Walter (Buzz) Kilborn of the former Kilborn Tire, Wheel and Brake Service, and several John Does.

On July 28, 1960, Mrs. Leff was driving a jeep station wagon borrowed from her mother. The jeep had been sent for repairs earlier that month. At California Park overpass, the jeep brushed a car in the next lane, went out of control and flipped over.

The suit seeks a half million dollars for severe injuries suffered by Mrs. Leff, 28; $10,000 for cuts and bruises to Marika, and $150,000 for the death of Sabra.

Gromyko Says Big Powers Are Closer

LONDON (UPI) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said tonight after a meeting with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan that he felt there is "growing understanding" between Russia and the United States and Britain.

Gromyko made the statement after conferring for an hour and 40 minutes with Macmillan and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home.

On his arrival here earlier today from talks with President John F. Kennedy, Gromyko told reporters "there is a possibility" of a peaceful Berlin settlement.

Following tonight's talk with Macmillan, Gromyko said "everything must be done by the responsible government — that is, the great powers—to avoid a collision and find a peaceful solution to the outstanding problems."

"I think the conversations have been useful," he said.

News Conference Set Tomorrow For Kennedy

Chemist's Wife Returned To Russ

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—A defecting Soviet chemist and his wife separated perhaps forever last night after a war of fists and words involving airport police, the Soviet ambassador to the Netherlands and Premier Jan de Quay.

Mrs. Alexei Golub flew home to Moscow, leaving her husband under Dutch protection awaiting asylum. At least one Soviet diplomat and one policeman nursed injuries. Soviet Ambassador Panteleimon K. Ponomarenko, minus a raincoat button from the brawl, threatened "far-reaching consequences" to the Dutch government.

Climax of the day-long quarrel was the final airport meeting between Golub, 35, and his wife. Dutch public prosecuter J. G. de Zaaijer called it a human tragedy.

In the presence of the Soviet ambassador and the public prosecutor, Mrs. Golub told her husband she had to think of her parents at home in the Soviet Union and was leaving without him. The couple has no children.

The Golubs arrived last week with a party of Soviet tourists. The husband was taken into custody after he walked out of their hotel Saturday night and announced he wanted asylum.

Yesterday's arguments resulted from Dutch efforts to make certain the woman was returning home of her own free will.

Crowd In N.Y. Applauds John Birch Society Speaker

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (UPI) — Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, told an overflow crowd of 1,400 last night that communism is not a movement of the poor and needy.

"I can find you a lot more Harvard accents in Communist circles today than you find me overalls," he said.

Welch won several bursts of applause—and never a boo—in a packed banquet room of the fashionable Garden City Hotel as he talked for one hour and 40 minutes on the dangers of Communist infiltration.

In a question and answer period afterwards, Welch drew resounding applause for his opinion of urban renewal. "It's a left-wing design for many purposes—to break down lines, moral, geographical and political and all other boundaries as well, and it is all part of an extreme socialist pattern of life," he said.

Welch said he does not believe Russia is willing to get into a shooting war with the United States. A war, he said, would trigger revolution in countries the Kremlin now controls.

Welch repeated his charge that "the largest single body of Communists in America is in our Protestant clergy," but he said this body was less than four per cent of the clergy.

Castro Claims U.S. Training Invasion Force

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's regime accused the United States last night of training invasion forces at 20 U.S. bases and nine Caribbean points for another assault on Cuban shores. It said the forces included paratroops and were stronger than those cut down in the abortive landings last April.

Acting Foreign Minister Carlos Olivares called in the diplomatic corps to press the charges in a 1,600-word note. He claimed the invasion training network extended from Guantanamo Bay to the Panama Canal Zone. He contended that 500 paratroopers were among the forces being readied in Panama.

Olivares asserted that a number of Central-American governments were involved and that the United States was setting the stage for invasion by trying to disrupt relations between Cuba and the other governments through the use of forged documents.

The Cuban note apparently was a preview of the policy speech Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa is to give in the U.N. General Assembly in New York.

Except for the details on training of anti-Castro exiles, most of the charges had been aired by Castro and his spokesman in recent weeks.

ARKANSAS ELECTION

King-Size Effort Told To Unseat Fulbright

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A king-sized effort apparently is going to be made by conservatives to unseat Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) in next year's Arkansas senatorial primary.

Fulbright, who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, took notice of this yesterday when he announced in Little Rock that he will be a candidate for re-election "unless it is obvious the people of Arkansas no longer want me to represent them."

Fulbright added that he was aware of some dissatisfaction among state voters because of his involvement with foreign affairs.

Because he is outspoken in his views, Fulbright has raised some State Department eyebrows with recent comments. His statement in London last week that the West bears heavy responsibilities for the situation in Berlin disturbed Kennedy administration leaders.

Back in this country, Fulbright called an airport news conference to say that his remarks were directed at the "dilatory tactics" employed by Western leaders in 1944 and 1945 and not at current talks about Berlin.

This may have left the Arkansas senator in a sort of hair-shirt classification, so far as the administration is concerned. But few politicians thought it disturbed the Arkansas voters materially.

Much more important from a state standpoint, perhaps, may have been Fulbright's memornadum to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in which the senator complained about military sponsorship of public forums which featured "extremist speeches" about alleged Communist infiltration in schools, churches and government.

In the storm over the alleged muzzling of military leaders, Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.) has won an inquiry by a special Armed Services subcommittee into the situation.

Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.) who has aligned himself with several conservative groups, has given every sign that he intends to contest Fulbright for the nomination. In the background is Gov. Orval Faubus who might decide to go after the senatorial nomination.

Landscape Gardeners To Speak In Belvedere

Katy and Paul Steinmetz, Marin landscape gardeners, will be speakers at a meeting of the Redwood Shade Garden Club at 8:15 p.m. Friday in Whittaker Hall, St. Stephen's Church, Belvedere.

The Steinmetzes will show slides of Marin Gardens they have designed, said George Coleman, club president.

Rayburn Gets Good Medicine: Kennedy Visit

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Ailing Sam Rayburn has probably received the best medicine there is for a lifelong politician: a visit from the president of the United States.

President John F. Kennedy went 3,000 miles out of his way yesterday to spend 14 minutes with the 79-year-old speaker of the House who has cancer. The president originally had planned to go directly to Washington from Newport, R.I., where he had spent the weekend.

John Holton, Rayburn's administrative assistant, said: "The entire family was gratified and pleased by the graciousness of the visit."

Holton said Rayburn told him that he and the president discussed everything from politics to world events.

Kennedy told Pierre Salinger, his press secretary, that Rayburn recalled in exact detail the 1934 congressional campaign, comparing it with 1962.

It was in 1934, that, contrary to the usual pattern, the party in power picked up extra House seats in a year in which the president wasn't running.

The man who has been speaker twice as long as anyone else was lying with his head propped up. The president stood for a time, then sat in a chair. Only a nurse was in the room with them.

Rayburn had been told about the visit only a half hour before the president landed.

Kennedy said he found Rayburn "somewhat thinner, but extremely lively."

De Soto, Kan., was named for Fernando de Soto.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Lana Must Pay

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Actress Lana Turner must pay $20,000 to the 13-year-old son of a man her daughter Cheryl Crane stabbed to death on April 4, 1958.

Superior Judge Bernett Wolfson ordered Miss Turner and her former husband, Stephen Crane, to deposit the money yesterday in the bank account of John Stompanato II, who lives with his mother in Hammond, Ind.

Attorneys for the boy filed a suit asking for $750,000 in damages after Miss Crane stabbed her mother's companion, Johnny Stompanato, to death in Miss Turner's Beverly Hills mansion.

Aragon Arrested

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—California's one-time wonderboy of boxing, Art Aragon, was booked on assault charges last night by two policemen who said the former contender for the world lightweight crown scuffled with them on a downtown sidewalk.

Aragon, now a bail bondsman, was expected to appeal for a writ of habeas corpus and post bond for his freedom pending arraignment on the felony charges.

The two officers saw Aragon pacing up and down in front of his parked car. They stopped to question him and Aragon began throwing punches until they subdued him.

Negro Appointed

HOUSTON (UPI)—Carl Walker Jr., was appointed yesterday as an assistant U.S. attorney—believed to be the first such post awarded a Negro in the south.

Walker, 37, a supporter of Sen. Ralph Yarborough, is a long-time friend of Vice President Lyndon Johnson.

'Good Faith' Talks

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Members of the negotiating committee of Masters, Mates and Pilots Union met in San Francisco today to show "good faith" in their deside to end the 12-day west coast maritime strike.

Capt. Robert Durkin, West Coast president of the MMP, called the meeting of delegates from all western ports. He said he felt the strike could be ended with "48 hours of good faith negotiations."

Burgess III

MOSCOW (AP)—Guy Burgess, who defected from the British Foreign Office in 1951, said today he may have hardening of the arteries and will enter a hospital for examination as soon as a bed is available.

Burgess, 50, is seen from time to time in Moscow and appears to be in reasonably good health.

Red Recognition

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Radio Damascus announced Monday Communist Poland has recognized the new Syrian regime.

Ford Talks

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union today faced the dual task of completing a national contract with Ford Motor Co. by Thursday and smoothing out problems which arose suddenly in its historic profit-sharing agreement with American Motors Corp.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther expressed optimism on both jobs.

He said only two major issues remain at Ford—production standards and a union demand for additional company-paid union representatives to process grievances in Ford plants.

Berserk Man Kills 3

GARY, Ind. (AP)—A laborer at the U.S. Steel Co.'s sheet and tin mill went berserk today and killed three men, wounded four others before a plant protection policeman killed him.

Police said Davis pulled a .38 revolver at the mill shortly before 9 a.m. and began firing. After he emptied the gun, they said, a plant protection guard shot him down.

It was not immediately known what caused Davis to start shooting.

Police identified the dead as Arbie Davis, a laborer; Joe Guhdon, laborer; Donald Moran, foreman; and Louis Massa, general laborer foreman.

Hijacker Request

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Leon Bearden, accused of trying to hijack a jet airliner and flying it to Cuba, said most Americans are so prejudiced and such hypocrites that he cannot get a fair trial and asked that it be moved to a foreign, neutral country.

Federal Judge R. E. Thomason said he would rule on Bearden's motion, believed to be the first of its kind ever filed in a United States court, next Monday.

Rescue Seaman

TOKYO (UPI)—U.S. Navy helicopters sped ahead of the fleet today to rescue 74 seamen—most of them Americans—from freighters driven aground by typhoon winds.

Forty-seven men were picked up from the 9,200-ton American freighter Pioneer Muse, stranded on Tiny Kita Daito island yesterday by typhoon Violet. The other 27 came from the 7,300-ton Lebanese ship Sheik, which ran aground eight days ago under the lash of an earlier typhoon.

JAILED FOR CURSING

Child-Neglect Dad In Court

The case of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman M. Owens of 727 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, on charges of neglecting their four children, was continued yesterday in Marin Municipal Court until tomorrow.

Attorney Herbert K. Walton Jr. was named by Judge Leonard A. Thomas to represent Owens, 27. Tomorrow it is to be determined whether he also will represent the wife, Mrs. Winifred Owens, 29.

"It is one of the worst cases of child neglect we have seen," said Deputy Dist. Atty. Hadden Roth.

The children, ranging from 3 to 8 years old, were found hungry and half-clothed last Friday in a squalid San Anselmo house. Owens was drunk and his wife was missing, said Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani.

When Owens was hailed before Judge Thomas Friday afternoon on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors, child neglec and habitual drunkenness in front of children, he declared, "It's all damned lies."

When he continued cursing despite a warning from the judge, he was held in contempt and sentenced to three days in jail.

Mrs. Owens, charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors and child neglect, was arrested Sunday. She admitted drinking with her husband before leaving the house after a quarrel Thursday night, Buchignani said.

She appeared in court yesterday with her husband. Both were held in lieu of $1,050 bail.

PROMOTED — George E. Franzman, son of George W. Franzman of 366 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael, has been promoted to first lieutenant at Fort Eustis, Va., where he is executive officer of the military police company. His wife, Suzanne, is teaching elementary school in nearby Denbigh, Va.

Richmond Laborer Arrested In Beating

John Hernandez, 24, Richmond laborer, was free in $498.75 bail today after his arrest early Saturday on charges of beating his wife Judy Ann Hernandez while they were visiting in Forest Knolls.

He was booked in Marin County Jail on charges of assault, battery, disturbing the peace and drunkenness. He faces a Municipal Court hearing at 1:30 p.m. today.

New State Of Syria Recognized By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today recognized the new state of Syria.

The State Department, in announcing this, said that the government of Premier Mahmoun al Kuzbari was informed today about the U.S. diplomatic move.

The U.S. consulate general in Damascus will be raised to the status of an embassy. Prior to the appointment of an ambassador, Ridgway B. Knight, the present consul general, will act as charge d'affaires.

The State Department announcement said:

"The United States government, having taken note of the declaration of the government of the Syrian Arab Republic that it intends to respect and observe its international obligations, has today extended recognition to that government.

"The government of the Syrian Arab Republic has been appraised of the desire of the U.S. government to raise the status of an embassy the American consulate general in Damascus and to appoint Mr. Ridgway B. Knight charge d'affaires."

U.S. officials made it clear early this month that the United States would recognize Syria as soon as some of the more important Arab countries recognize the new regime.

More Price Marks Asked

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The state consumer counsel said yesterday that more price information is needed on packaged foods to help pensioners and lower income families.

The official, Mrs. Helen Nelson, testified before the Assembly Interim Committee on Agriculture in a renewed effort to get legislation that would require per-unit prices to appear on such packaged foods as cheese, meat and vegetables.

The legislature rejected such a bill during its 1961 session. Many stores already provide such information on most such items.

Assemblyman Jack Schrade (R-El Cajon) declared the family pays the price it can afford in any event. He suggested that the proposed bill would "get us into the field of the police state."

Head Highway Unit

DENVER (AP)—J. C. Womack, California state highway engineer, yesterday was elected president of the American Assn. of State Highway Officials.

Narcotics Addiction Study Asked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Fewer people would become drug addicts if they were taught what to expect, says the Governor's Special Study Commission on Narcotics.

In its final report yesterday the commission urged an educational program, saying that even physicians lack full information on narcotics.

The commission called for:

1. Creation of an institute at the University of California for research into the causes of drug addiction.

2. Production and distribution of up-to-date films and pamphlets on narcotics.

3. Increased instruction for teachers, students, and physicians.

"The commission was advised that many physicians are prescribing dangerous drugs without a full understanding of the consequences to the health of their patients," the report said.

In Combat Test

Army First Lt. Andrew R. Foster Jr. of 162 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, participated with the 503rd Infantry Combat Team in Exercise Tien Bang (Sky Soldier), a joint Nationalist Chinese-American Airborne operation which ended on Taiwan Sept. 30.

Mill Valley Master Plan Hearings Start Tonight

Public hearings on the newly revised Mill Valley master plan will be held before the Planning Commission starting tonight.

Comprehensive studies, made over a period of one year by planning consultant Robert Cornish, encompass: 1. existing and 2. future land use; 3. recreation and school sites; 4. population and economics and 5. circulation and parking studies.

The five separate studies, each bound in book form and with photo covers by Mill Valley photographer Phil Palmer, are available to citizens at the city hall for purchase or reading. They are also available for reading at the Public Library.

"The master plan is important to the citizens," Cornish said, "because it determines the fundamental direction in which the community will grow. It tells the kind of community the citizen will live in in the future.

"It effects his home, schools, recreation. It determines, in a sense, the character of the community.

"Unless we hear from the residents," Cornish added, "we won't know what they think of it." He said he urges people to avail themselves of the report and to inform themselves before coming to the meetings.

Mill Valley's original master plan was made by County Planning Director Mary Summers and Cornish. It was started in 1953 and finished in 1955. "This was one of the first instances of joint planning ventures of two governmental agencies," Cornish declared.

Schedule of hearings of the revised master plan is as follows:

Tuesday, at approximately 10 p.m. when regular planning business is completed — planning goals and objectives; land use.

Oct. 17, 8 p.m.—land use including commercial and industry (retail shopping, professional and administrative and special commercial.)

Oct. 31, 8 p.m.—parks and recreation; school sites; public buildings.

Nov. 7, 8 p.m.—Circulation and parking.

Future land use is not scheduled for one hearing but will come up at each of the hearings, Cornish said.

The Grand Falls of the Hamilton River in Labrador are a huge untapped source of hydroelectric power. The volume of water that boils through four miles of rapids, drops 245 feet, and races through a 12-mile canyon is second only to Niagara in North America.

Ross Hospital Drugs System Is In Article

The story of the establishment and operation of the Ross General Hospital formulary—the written collection of drugs in stock—is told in the October issue of the magazine, Western Pharmacy, by A. H. Angelini, pharmacist at the hospital.

According to the author, who established the present formulary at Ross General Hospital in April, it is one of only two similar formularies in Marin county. The other, also established by Angelini, is at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

The two formularies he has set up, Angelini maintains, go beyond the accepted formulary procedure of merely classifying drugs alphabetically.

Alphebetical formularies, Angelini says, "usually begin to suffer the early signs of obsolesecence before the ink is dry on the pages."

The Ross formulary, operated by Angelini and the hospital's pharmacy and therapeutics committee, is cross-referenced to classify medication by generic and proprietary names, location in stock, dosage, strength and active ingredients.

By using a similar method, Angelini writes, one hospital reports that "114 inventory items were ultimately reduced to five basic forms." Such a move would eliminate "shades of doubt that have been created by many misleading trade names in vogue . . ." the article states.

If a choice of identical drugs is to be made, he said, "quality is never sacrificed to price."

"If the prescribing physician wishes to order a drug not official in the formulary, this drug can still be provided on the basis of a few hours notice," he said.

The Ross General Hospital formulary is maintained on the basis of a quarterly review by Angelini and the hospital committee on pharmacy and therapeutics.

Angelini, of 37 Knoll Way in Los Ranchitos, has been at Ross General Hospital since August, 1960. A graduate of the University of California, he was pharmacist at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital during 1958.

Couple Is Told Of Father's Death

A San Rafael woman on a cross-country honeymoon was intercepted Friday in Indianapolis, Ind., and informed of the death of her father who was killed in a San Francisco Bay plane crash last Wednesday.

Linda Sandahl of 187 Reservoir Road, and her bridegroom, Army 1st Lt. Carl E. Sandahl were informed of the tragedy when he reported to Fort Benjamin Harrison where he is to be based.

Highway patrols throughout the middle west had issued an all-points bulletin in an effort to locate the couple.

Sandahl was given additional leave so he and his bride could attend the funeral Saturday in Woodland.

PARTED BY DEADLY RAGE

This picture of Edward Guillamme, 69, circus clown billed as "Polidor the Clown," and Miss Elena Nelson, 49, also a circus performer with a dog act known as "Miss Gabrielle," was found on her body in her River Vale, N.J., home yesterday. She had been killed with an axe and slashed with several knives. Officials said Guillamme had killed her in a rage when she tried to break off their friendship because he was "too old." Eight Cling 24 Hours To Capsized Sailboat

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Eight persons, including three airline stewardesses, today were recovering from a harrowing 24 hours spent clinging to a capsized sailboat in the shark-infested waters of the Fiji Islands.

The story of their struggle was reported today by survivors here and in Honolulu.

Pan American stewardess Gudron Meisner, 32, of San Mateo, Estella Navarro, 29, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Margaret Kircher, 32, of Riverside, were recuperating at a Honolulu hospital today.

Captain J. W. Adriance and First Officer W. K. Langhorne of Panam were flown here. Langhorne, who lives in Atherton, is a nephew of England's Lady Astor.

Also in the group were Paddy Doyle, owner of the boat, Captain Ian Gemmel and Flight Engineer Derek Stubbs, both of New Zealand's Overseas Airline.

They sailed from Nandi, Fiji, Friday morning in a 26-foot sloop. After a day of picnicking and skin diving, the sloop was hit by a gust of wind and capsized around 6 p.m.

"All of us had been trained in survival techniques, but not this kind," Adriance recalled today.

"To begin with, Miss Navarro couldn't swim. There were no flares or life rafts.

"We got Miss Navarro secured to the side of the boat, took stock of our situation and realized that with night falling there wasn't much chance of our being found."

He said he and two other men dived into the submerged cabin, retrieved some rope and looped the eight persons together and tied the party to the still buoyant side of the boat.

They wrapped themselves in a sail and every five minutes during the night, counted heads and shouted.

Sunup found them still clinging to the boat and finally at noon, realizing they had little chance of being spotted, they decided to swim the five miles to the island of Mala Mala.

"We made a float of an empty gas can, a plastic water container, an inner tube and a styrofoam ice chest and started towing the girls toward Mala Mala," Adriance said, "We were set upon by two blackfin sharks. Paddy Doyle shot the larger one with a spear gun and we frightened the other away and we finally made the island."

They crawled exhausted to shore, but still continued their survival preparations.

Doyle used his spear gun to shoot down a coconut and the gun's recoil broke his nose, but Adriance said "we set it."

A private plane spotted them as it was getting dark Saturday night and four hours later the group was back in Nandi.

Witness Says Scarbeck Admitted Giving Secrets

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A State Department security officer said today that former diplomat Irvin C. Scarbeck admitted memorizing secret documents at the U.S. Embassy in Warsaw and later relating their contents to Polish intelligence agents.

The witness, Charles W. Lyons, said Scarbeck also conceded that he slipped a secret dispatch on Polish-American relations, written by U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam, to the Polish agents.

The testimony was given as Scarbeck's trial on charges of passing classified information to the Polish secret police (UB) moved into its second week.

The former second secretary of the U.S. Embassy in Warsaw allegedly was blackmailed by UB agents after he was photographed with his 22 year old Polish girl friend.

Lyons testified that Scarbeck, 41, had expressed fear of being caught in his dealings with the Poles.

The security official also said Scarbeck, 41, told him in an interview last June 7 the same story of blackmail by the Polish police after they learned about Urszala Discher last Dec. 2.

Woman Passenger Threatens Cabbie

Taking a woman passenger from San Francisco to Sausalito Saturday night, cab driver Bennett McLaughlin was suddenly faced halfway across the Golden Gate Bridge with a .22 caliber pistol.

Mrs. Katherine Mary Lynd, 49, of San Francisco, not only pointed the gun at McLaughlin but, when he failed to stop, pulled the trigger twice. The gun did not fire and McLaughlin was able to stop and grab the pistol from the woman.

At Vista Point McLaughlin radioed the bridge highway patrol for help. Mrs. Lynd told the officers she was despondent.

Public Bodies 2 To 1 Behind Santa Fe

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Santa Fe claims a 2 to 1 majority over Southern Pacific in support declarations by public bodies for its control of the Western Pacific. S.P. disputes the claim.

Southern Pacific attorneys yesterday promptly challenged admissibility of the poll report in the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on competing bids by the S.P. and Santa Fe to take over Western Pacific.

Paul C. Albus, ICC examiner, said he would rule on admitting San Francisco transportation consultant, after S.P. cross-examination in a later hearing session.

Jenkins declared 589 of 860 petitioners of intervention filed with the ICC by county boards of supervisors, city councils and chambers of commerce favored Santa Fe control.

He reported 271 backed Southern Pacific control. In California, Jenkins said, the score was 418 for Santa Fe and 157 for Southern Pacific.

A Southern Pacific spokesman said Jenkins' study would be challenged in detail in later hearings.

AFL-CIO Exec Group Rejects Teamsters

NEW YORK (UPI)—The executive council of the AFL-CIO today overwhelmingly rejected a proposal for the readmission of James R. Hoffa and his Teamsters Union to the international organization.

The vote against Hoffa was 27 to 2, with two members of the 29-man board absent, including Walter Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers, busy with contract negotiations in Detroit.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, told newsmen after the closed door meeting that there was no indication that the Teamsters had rectified the conditions that led to their expulsion four years ago.

Bird Sanctuary Is Closing For Winter

The Richardson Bay bird sanctuary maintained by the National Audubon Society will be closed to public boat use beginning next Monday, it was announced today.

The sanctuary is being closed because of fall flights of migratory birds which nest in the marshes, according to society president Carl W. Buchheister.

The area will be patrolled by Audubon Warden John O. Larson who is deputized by both federal and state governments, Buchheister said. The sanctuary will be reopened in the spring when waterfowl have moved out.

VALHALLA, N.Y. (AP) — Edward H. Meyerding, 42, associate director of the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, died Sunday of injuries suffered in a fall from the roof of his home in Greenburg, N.Y.

Vandals Hit Car; He Finally Complains

Roy Chester Sayles of 15 Ridgewood Drive, Marinwood, did not complain when he found two flat tires Sept. 17 on his car which he parks on the street overnight. Nor did he complain when Sept. 24, bleach had been poured in through the open window onto his seat.

But he did protest to the sheriffs' office Sunday after he found nails propped up under all four tires and lacquer thinner or varnish thinner poured on the front seat and dash board and nails driven into the cushion.

Vengeance Charge Hurled At Prosecutor

PORT ORCHARD, Wash. (AP) —Dr. Robert L. Boehme, 41, charged with trying to poison his wife, accused the prosecuting attorney yesterday of seeking personal vengeance.

In a statement issued through his attorney, the physician said Prosecutor Gordon L. Walgren was "trying to exact retribution because he thought I prevented his marriage to Mary Boehme."

Mary Boehme, 28, a nurse, is a former sister-in-law of Dr. Boehme. She is free on $5,000 bond as a material witness.

Advised of Dr. Boehme's statement, Walgren said, "I have no comment other than that the evidence presented has convinced me there has been a crime."

Walgren, 28, has acknowledged that he and Mary Boehme obtained a marriage license at Tacoma June 22. He said he dated the nurse as part of his investigation.

Dr. Boehme's wife, Dorothy, 34, joined in issuing the statement, which called Walgren's charges fantastic.

Naval Brass Scoffs At Russ Claims Of Nuclear Sub Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP) — "We don't believe it" was the reaction today of a top Navy anti-submarine warfare authority to a Soviet claim that the Soviet Union has the world's fastest fleet of nuclear submarines.

The authority, who did not want to be quoted by name, said the Navy thinks the Soviets have a small fleet of nuclear submarines.

But he added: "If they have a submarine up to the state of the Nautilus we'd be surprised."

The Nautilus was the first nuclear submarine. It was commissioned about seven years ago and the Navy since has evolved more advanced models.

The U.S. fleet now has 14 nuclear attack submarines. A 15th will be commissioned shortly.

Thirteen others are in various stages of construction. Also with the fleet is a nuclear submarine armed with 500-mile-range Regulus guided missiles.

An increasingly important element of U.S. striking power is the Polaris submarine, capable of firing atomic-tipped rockets over 1,200 miles. Six of these are at sea or close to combat readiness. Thirteen more either have been launched or are being built.

Innocent Pleas In Battery Case

Marvin J. Douglas, 21, and his brother Gary, 19, of Marin City pleaded innocent yesterday afternoon to disturbing the peace and battery at a high school football game at College of Marin Sept. 29 and their case was continued to Monday.

They pleaded in Marin Municipal Court to a complaint signed by John R. George, assistant principal of Tamalpais High School, that Marvin Douglas punched Gerald F. Warren, 35, Tamalpais High woodshop teacher, breaking his nose, while Gary Douglas held Warren's arms.

Warren was helping officers hold back fans from joining fighting on the field between players of Tamalpais and Riordan High Schools.

Drunken Driver Fined

Henry John Van Ree, 44, auto salesman formerly of 875 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, and now of Hollywood, was fined $158 and put on six months probation in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving on Highway 101 south of San Rafael last June 22.

ters, and busy rebuilding their state.

Those in shattered areas will go to nearby food storage areas, where they will receive food and aid.

Families separated by the rush for shelters will go to the nearest regrouping center, where they will find the rest of their family.

The state government, from its emergency headquarters at Folsom, will supervise rescue and rehabilitation, with each state agency assigned to a specific task . . .

A dream? Yes, but not too far from reality. That's the dream of Allan K. Jonas, director of the California Disaster Office, a man determined to make that dream come true.

Since Berlin and the Russian resumption of nuclear tests, the country and the state have shown a sudden upsurge in interest in civil defense.

If you're like the average person you probably believe there's no way to prepare for nuclear war, or even that it can never come.

But the men in the California Disaster Office—the agency responsible for protecting you and your family—don't think that way.

ALAN K. JONAS
Civil defense chief

"A nuclear war," Jonas says, "is a real possibility.

"But more important, defense against it is possible, and even fairly simple, provided the people have the information they need."

With this in mind, CDO has created a master plan for state civil defense, and is calmly trying to make sure you and your family will survive a nuclear war.

"The public," says Jonas, "needs four things to survive —advance warning, shelter, food and water, and emergency information.

"Given these," he says, "90 per cent of California's citizens can survive a nuclear war. Perhaps 30 per cent might survive without them.

"Because these four requirements call for greater knowledge and cash than the average man has, it's up to the state to supply them."

And he says an efficient warning system could be built, shelters installed under every school and public building, and a year's supply of food stored for less than the state's $1.75-billion-dollar water bond issue.

by all the others," he declared.

Austin said 100 persons, ages ranging from three weeks to 70 years, were housed in the same shelter last spring for two weeks as civil defense authorities made a test of reactions to the trying conditions.

The main complaints for these persons, in order, were: (1) not enough water; (persons were rationed to one gallon per day; (2) temperature and humidity; (3) lack of exercise; (4) crowding; (5) lack of cleansing facilities; (6) sleeping difficulty, and (7) noise.

Austin said his party of 85 ate two meals while in the shelter, both consisting of C-rations. Each was permitted to smoke only during certain hours.

Austin said that during one of the classes, Allan K. Jonas, director of the California Disaster Office, reported the government would not pay for the building of shelters.

"Personally, I feel the state and county should help by giving tax releases for the construction of shelters. The shelters should be tax-free, but the cost of the construction should be paid by the builder," said Austin. "The state should finance shelters for schools, however. Most schools do not have any protection.

"I suggest a shelter committee for Marin be formed. But we can't get started in this line until we get a full-time civil defense director."

Anticipating the next question, Austin said:

"No, I will not be a candidate for civil defense director. But I would be glad to serve on the committee."

Austin said he had planned to build a fallout shelter in his basement at his Larkspur home until he attended the course in Alameda. Now he is studying plans and information for building of a concrete shelter in his back yard.

Another Rabid Animal Killed—10th This Year

Another rabid skunk has been killed at McNear's Beach, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, disclosed today.

This was the 10th animal killed in Marin County this year and the seventh skunk. One raccoon and one calf have been found to be rabid.

Dr. Albrecht said the skunk was shot by M. Jenkins, a McNear's Beach resident, on Sept. 28, after it had been hanging around the area for several days and had chased children and dogs that approached it. It was not known to have bitten anybody or any other animal, she said.

The head was examined by the Marin County Health Department and indications of rabies were found. Further examination by the State Department of Public Health confirmed the skunk was rabid.

A rabid skunk had been killed in the same area on Sept. 4.

The nine rabid animals found this year in Marin constitute the greatest number since 1955, when 11 were found, Dr. Albrecht said.

However, no dog has been found rabid in Marin since 1937, and no cat since 1928.

Jewish Center Sets Foreign Film Festival

Marin Jewish Community Center will open its first foreign film festival at 8:30 p.m. today with a showing of "The Roots," a Mexican film directed by Benito Alazraki.

The film will be shown in the center auditorium at Mission and Forbes avenues, San Rafael.

"The Roots," based on a book by Francisco Gonzales, was winner of the International Film Critics awards at the Cannes festival. It includes four stories of the Indians of modern Mexico and the anthropologists who go there to study them.

The foreign film festival will continue each Tuesday. Succeeding films will be: Oct. 17, "Our Man in Havana," English film starring Alex Guinness; Oct. 24, "The Wilk Cat," French film starring Fernandel.

Probation Ordered In Morals Offense

Cleveland G. Puckett, 36-year-old San Francisco butcher, yesterday was put on three years probation for morals offenses involving a girl 11 years old when he lived in Mill Valley prior to June, 1959.

Puckett, arrested last March 27, appeared in Marin Superior Court before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. Probation was pronounced after Dr. W. A. Oliver of Napa State Hospital and Dr. Philip S. Hicks reported Puckett was not a sexual psychopath.

Coast Guard Gives Up Search For Two

The Coast Guard gave up its search today for two men whose Sausalito-berthed boat overturned on Saturday off Point Pinos near Pacific Grove.

Assumed drowned were the boat's owner, Carnelian (Skeezix) Walker, 37, a Sebastopol machinist, and his brother, Mickey Walker, 34, a Vallejo electrician.

The boat, which had been berthed at Sausalito until the elder Walker and his wife, Iris, moved to Sebastopol in March, left Long Beach a week ago Sunday en route to San Francisco.

Five Injured In Rear-End Collisions

Five persons suffered injuries in two rear-end automobile collisions on Marin County highways yesterday.

Four were shaken and bruised when a pickup truck driven by Mrs. Anita Hulda Dehnert slowed to turn into the Dehnert home entrance at 5853 Redwood Highway, Novato, from a service road near Highway 101, and it was struck by a following sedan driven by Mrs. Gayle Evenly Shotwell of 477 Via Herbosa, Novato.

Mrs. Dehnert was treated at Novato Hospital for neck injury. Nancy Dehnert received treatment for minor bruises.

Mrs. Shotwell, driving the other car, suffered a minor bruise of the mouth but escaped worse harm because she was kept in her place by a seat belt. Two-year-old Sandra Shotwell suffered a leg scratch.

A half-ton truck driven by Joseph Phillip Mello of 599 Thornwood Terrace, Terra Linda, ran into the rear of a dump truck driven by Jack Richard Fielder of San Quentin at noon yesterday on North San Pedro Road east of Roosevelt Way, Santa Venetia. The Fielder truck was said to have come to a quick stop.

Maria M. Mello was thrown into the windshield of the Mello truck and was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises of right ear and knees.

Bay Transit Meeting Changed To Friday

Because of the Columbus Day holiday Thursday, directors of the five-county Bay Area Rapid Transit District will hold a regular monthly meeting at 2 p.m. Friday in the district's Assembly Room, 985 Flood Building, San Francisco.

Included on the agenda, according to General Manager John M. Peirce, will be a discussion of engineering plans for a four-county system excluding Marin County.

WOMAN SAVED

Larkspur Man Leaps To Death From Span

Charles L. Epidendio, 48, landscape gardener and member of a well-known Larkspur family, jumped to his death from the Golden Gate Bridge early today—the 212th known bridge suicide.

His body was recovered by the Coast Guard at 6:21 a.m. as result of a note found by Epidendio's wife just after he left home.

Only a few hours before, a San Francisco woman had been forcibly restrained from a leap from the bridge.

Epidendio's note attributed his act to a painful back, which family members said had troubled him for at least 15 years.

He was a brother of Ernest Epidendio, proprietor of Larkspur's Rainbow Market.

Sometime before 5 a.m. today Epidendio's wife Ida was aroused at their home at 2 Monte Vista, Larkspur, by the sound of the family automobile leaving the garage.

Epidendio worked only intermittently, owning income property, and as Mrs. Epidendio knew of no job on hand, she felt disturbed. She immediately got up, and found a brief penciled note in the kitchen.

"I am suffering from back aches," it read. "To end it am going to jump off near the north end tower of the Golden Gate Bridge."

Mrs. Epidendio immediately phoned her husband's younger brother, Richard, of 116 Locust Avenue. He in turn phoned to the California Highway Patrol, then jumped in his own car and went to the bridge just before the Coast Guard found his brother's body in the water below.

Epidendio's sister-in-law, Mrs. Ernest Epidendio, who narrowly missed election to the Larkspur City Council in April, 1960, said she felt her brother-in-law had suffered from his back affliction for years.

"He spoke of the pain when I saw him only a few days ago, and seemed very depressed," she recalled.

The Epidendios have one child, Janet, 12.

Two Petaluma men prevented 26-year-old Mrs. Lena Rae Gutshall of San Francisco from flinging herself from the bridge just after 4 p.m. yesterday.

Ronald W. O'Donnell and Robert D. Smith were driving north behind a car which stopped near the south tower. They saw a young woman jump out, run across the sidewalk and start to climb over the railing.

They promptly halted their own car, ran after the woman and grabbed her just as she got outside the railing and crouched to leap. With much difficulty they hauled her back inside the railing and kept her under constraint until arrival of a highway patrol car.

Mrs. Gutshall said at San Francisco County Hospital that she has two children, a girl of 9 and a boy of 7, and that her sailor husband had abandoned her. She had been under psychiatric treatment for several years and was "tired of living," she said.

Rumpus Room Battle Ends In Fairfax

The question of whether A. B. Whittemore has added a rumpus room or an apartment to his Pine Drive duplex was finally resolved by the Fairfax City Council last night.

The council ruled that unless kitchen facilities are added to the controversial room which contains a private bath, it may be deemed a rumpus room.

The ruling represented a victory for Whittemore of 181-183 Pine Drive over his neighbor realty broker Max Kimball, who complained to the council last month that Whittemore was violating the local zoning ordinance by converting his duplex into a triplex. At that time, Kimball further pointed out that under Whittemore's plans, the "rumpus room" would extend eight to 10 feet into the street.

A subsequent survey made by the city engineer and paid for by Whittemore confirmed Kimball's charges that the building extension infringed on the right-of-way.

Whittemore, however, countered at last night's meeting that most homes on Pine Drive are built partly on city-owned property. If the council insists on enforcing the ordinance in this instance, most houses on Pine Drive will have to be torn down, he said.

Whittemore, who is presently advertising his property for sale, was told by the council to desist from advertising it as a "duplex-plus."

"We don't want a buyer figuring he is purchasing a potential triplex," said Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar.

"It's my business and none of the city's how I advertise," answered Whittemore.

The Fairfax City Council also:

1. Discussed extension of the city's drainage system from Bolinas Avenue to Pacheco Avenue to Corte Madera Creek. Present estimates peg the cost at $16,775 if paid for in cash or $20,745 if financed by an assessment district. The question was held for the next meeting of the council pending a check of the legal aspects of setting up an assessment district.

2. Approved a budget allocation of $6,700 in state highway funds for street repair.

3. Instructed the recreation commissioner to draw up plans for a fence for the city park playground. Bids on construction will be called for at the next meeting.

4. Received a complaint from Syl Cabla of 111 Bothin Road that an abandoned building next to the Cabla property is on the verge of collapsing.

5. Received communications from the Marin County Labor Council and the Building Trades Council apologizing for causing any embarrassment to City Clerk Alice Leonesio in the recent situation which found her acting temporarily as building inspector.

6. Received request from four residents of San Gabriel Drive for an additional street light.

7. Appointed building inspector J. C. Uhle temporary plumbing inspector because of the forced retirement of Arthur Shearer, receiving a pension from the state, cannot remain on the city payroll now that Fairfax has come under the State Employees Retirement System.

Shop Center Approved For Corte Madera

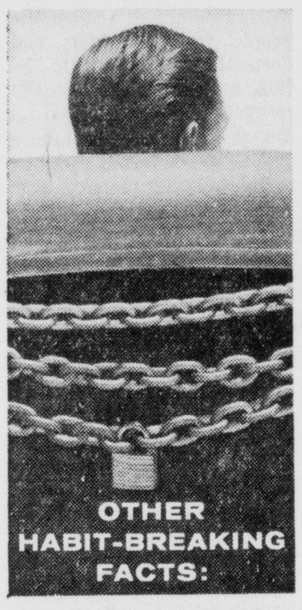

A proposed 22,500-square-foot shopping center gained approval of the Corte Madera Planning Commission last night.

The center is to be located at 5561 Paradise Drive. The commission, in granting approval, instructed San Rafael engineer Valmar A. Schaaf to increase the width of the service roads from 10 to 12 feet. The commission also specified that each of the stores leased from owner J. Wilbur Jones of San Francisco must have an enclosed area at the rear for rubbish.

The commission set a public hearing for 8 p.m. on Nov. 13 on application of Western Oil and Gas Assn. to amend the town's zoning ordinance regarding signs for gasoline stations.

Cuts Hand

Fourteen-year-old Fred Weissberg got some stitches in his left hand Sunday at Marin General Hospital after he had cut himself while playing with a jackknife at Sunday school. Weissberg, son of Mrs. Lawrence Weissberg of 451 Las Collindas, Terra Linda, cut himself on his left palm.

Drama Group Gives Activity, Pleasure In San Quentin

There are a score or so little theater groups in Marin County. But we doubt that there is one that does a better job or provides a more rewarding outlet for its members than the San Quentin Drama Group.

We're not talking about a group of prison officials, their wives and friends in the village of San Quentin. We're talking about the inmates.

Last weekend we saw their latest production, John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men." Of course it wasn't just the way Steinbeck wrote it. There is a shortage of women (none) at the prison, so the part of Curly's wife, who meets a tragic end as a vital part of the story, had to be written out of the production.

This was deftly handled by the man who directed the production, leaving an all male cast but telling the whole story.

Such adaptation is only a part of what would appear to us to be the great good of the production. For example the programs offered an excellent opportunity for the prison print shop to undertake creative work, and they did a fine job.

The prison band played before, during and after the play. While seeming a little stiff at times while playing orchestra-pit music, the musicians limbered up after the show and started to swing. A number of the visitors would have stayed around an extra hour or so to listen.

And the jobs of set design, construction and decoration, collection of properties, makeup, lighting and sound must have taken hours of time which might otherwise have hung heavy on the hands of the men.

To top this, of course, is the pleasure given to the inmates who sat on the hard benches of the old dining hall to see the three performances.

If we would have any criticism at all, it would be that the jobs could be spread around a little more. For example, the set designer also had one of the leading roles; the production manager served in the stage crew and also had a part in the play. Perhaps there are some things we don't understand about custody problems, but it would seem if every man was limited to just one job on each play, more men of the prison's 5,000 inmates could be involved.

This simple criticism is overwhelmed by the fine job done by one and all. We congratulate the entire Drama Group and the officials who sponsor it.

We also were amused and somehow touched by a note in the program. It was headed "Post Mortem" and read:

"Viewers of the San Quentin Drama Group's past productions will undoubtedly notice that there is an old standard missing from this program. John Prophet, past Drama Group chairman, director and actor has traded the Drama Group for a release. Good luck, John."

TEEN-AGERS PROVIDE CANCER CURE

Two high school seniors doing cancer research made a significant contribution to a knowledge of the disease.

The 17-year-olds, a boy and a girl, took parts in a summer training institute at Yeshiva University in New York. Their work—which sometimes lasted 10 hours a day—was so productive that it continued beyond the summer.

They obtained what one doctor described as "tremendous results" in advancing the theory that cancer may be a tearing-down instead of a building-up process, as most authorities have believed.

What commended these teen-agers to older medical men was their freshness of approach, which was not tied down to preconceived notions.

Although they may not often surprise their elders in such outstanding ways, young people respond remarkably to encouraging direction. You are a co-worker with God when you tap the intellectual resources of those to whom the future running of the world is entrusted.

"Choose knowledge rather than gold. For wisdom is better than all the most precious things." (Proverbs 8:10-11)

Junior-Grade Diplomats Tired Of Hearing Remarks About Them

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a junior diplomat gets tired of hearing:

"Ronald, there isn't time to send your striped pants to the cleaner. You'll have to iron them again yourself."

"I hear the State Department is going to cut our embassy's liquor allowance again."

"Why not let Ronald speak for our delegation today? He's got such a bad case of laryngitis the other side won't be able to tell what he's saying anyway."

"We have to keep him. His father was a big contributor in the last election."

"I understand you've become a diplomat, Ronald. That's wonderful. What else do you do?"

"Why not send him to Britain? He flunked college English, so he couldn't do us any harm there. They won't be able to understand him."

"Some department store lost an ideal floorwalker when Ronald decided to become a diplomat."

"This is a rush mission, Ronald, so don't mess it up. The ambassader came in with a hangover, and I want you to hurry down to the kitchen and bring back a container of black coffee."

"He never learns. I've told him time and time again he'll never get ahead if he can't remember not to wear his Homburg like it was a baseball cap."

"If we had two more like him, they'd make a great team for us to send to Russia—and enter in a troika race."

"Congressman Bellow is coming over here for a first-hand study of foreign economic problems, Ronald, so I want you to be sure he sees only the best night clubs. I'm afraid you'll have to pick up the tab yourself, as we have exhausted the embassy's entertainment allowance for this month."

"HE LOOKS so lonely carrying around that big new empty briefcase. Can't we give him some diagrams of the Empire State Building to put in it? That might build up his self-confidence."

"I hear the Russians are planning to bring a mind reader to our next meeting. Why not really mix the guy up by letting Ronald act as our spokesman?"

"WAKE UP, RONALD, the conference is over."

"I've had a real stroke of geinus, chief. Why not promote him three grades and send him back to Washington as a consultant?"

No Less Than School Excellence

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

My congratulations and appreciation for your Oct. 3 editorial in the Independent-Journal complimenting the quality of the public schools in Marin County.

As a new resident and educator to the county, I agree with your assessment. Further, I commend you on giving space to this kind of positive editorializing. I firmly endorse your thoughts that all of us must continue to accept nothing less than excellence from our public schools.

Face The Facts About Tunnel

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It is time for us to face the facts on the railroad tunnel matter.

We must come to a realization that the tunnel will not be rebuilt unless the major part of the cost is contributed by local interests, and it will not be rebuilt at all unless something is done soon.

It is necessary that some agency accept the responsibility for initiating action. Maybe this should be the Chamber of Commerce. In any case, negotiations must be started to determine how much money the railroad will be willing to spend, and what can be obtained from other sources.

As the continuance of railroad service is of importance to the entire community—all of Marin County, that is—it would seem suitable for the county and the various cities in the county to share a major part of the cost. This would be well justified even though it creates current budget deficits. The local firms which are heavy users of rail service could be called on to make contributions, and it would appear that the rail unions would be acting in their own interests to do likewise.

Another possible means of raising funds would be to solicit the general public to subscribe to bonds which would be paid off by a toll surcharge (which would need to be only at a very modest rate) on all freight shipments.

The community has been done a great disservice by the estimate of "experts" that reconstruction would cost over a million dollars. I wish I could have the contract at half that amount.

I have examined the situation and am convinced that there is a feasible method of repair at a cost that I estimate in the amount of about $350,000.

Immediate action is imperative to prevent approval of the abandonment and loss of the rail-using industries and businesses.

Sunny Hills Article Fine Job

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have for a long time enjoyed the Marin Magazine on Saturdays and was particularly pleased to note the article on Sunny Hills that appeared in the Sept. 30 issue.

As past president of the Grape Booth Guild, it has been my pleasure to become very familiar with the work of Sunny Hills. This article was a fine job of reporting and I know the members of our Guild and I'm sure the members of the other 36 Guilds appreciate this story about the excellent work being done at Sunny Hills.

"Whatever we save by not supporting our churches will come in handy for building jails."

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Mill Valley police conducted a midnight search when a woman excitedly phoned that someone was groaning near her home. The groaner turned out to be an owl.

District Engineer L. A. Weymouth of the state Division of Highways said that plans for an underpass at the Santa Venetia turnoff on Highway 101 have been completed and given unofficial approval by residents and officials.

20 YEARS AGO

County tax rate for fiscal 1942 was $1.34 per $100 valuation on an assessed value of $50,020,400 and a total budget of $708,272.79. The rate was four cents under that of the preceding fiscal year.

Georgia Wintringham, chairman of the San Rafael tree committee, protested that the city had two elm trees cut at Fifth Avenue and B Street without consulting her group.

TRY AND STOP ME

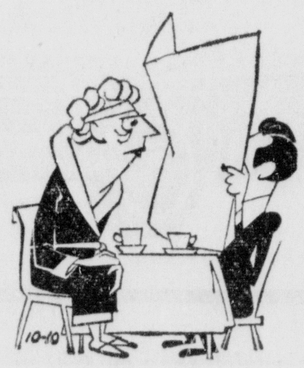

BENNETT CERF

Are you stuck with a husband who ignores you habitually at the breakfast table and buries his nose in the sporting pages or financial tables in his morning paper? If so, take a tip from lovely Mary Healy, who soon cured her husband Peter of such cavalier behaviour. One morning, she just yanked the paper away from him and carolled, "The doctor dropped in to see me just before you awakened, and boy, do I have news for you!" That ended Peter's reading for one morning anyhow.

The big attraction at a south Jersey carnival was a grizzly bear who played "The Star-Spangled Banner" on the piano.

"Goodness," marveled a lady spectator to the bear's trainer, "how did that ungainly animal ever learn to play the piano?"

"How does anybody learn?" snapped the trainer. "He took lessons."

In Easy Novato Life, Garageman Goes Hunting For Four Months

To the hurried commuter in the southern end of Marin County, the pace of life in North Marin is something to be envied. Residents of the southern part of the county picture northern Marinites as having the leisurely pace of an unhurried gentleman farmer.

This is not quite true, but there are those who really know how to enjoy life.

Take Novato's Herb Graham, who operates a small garage out Hatch Road way. In June he decided to go hunting, and a hunting he went. He locked up his garage and put a sign on the door which read:

"Gone hunting. Back in September."

And he did. He went to the Yukon Territory in northern Canada and just returned last week.

IT SEEMS a little ironic to us, but the unfinished portion of the pipeline from Novato to the Russian River lies on the David Sweeney ranch.

After all, he has been the only one along the 10 miles of pipeline to ask to be annexed into the district so he could connect with the pipeline to get his water.

MANY MARIN residents probably did not notice it, but an era has just ended for music lovers.

For the first time in 30 years, the name of Lily Pons did not appear on the schedule of singers at New York's Metropolitan Opera.

Thus ends the longest career of any soprano in that famed opera house.

WE HAVE READ with a great deal of amusement about residents of one American city being warned to arm themselves against the residents of another city.

It started in Las Vegas, Nev., when the residents were warned to arm themselves against the hordes of people that would use up all of the food and medical supplies in Las Vegas in case of an atomic attack on Los Angeles.

Then the civil defense coordinator in Riverside warned the people of that city of 80,000 to be armed against the millions that would come pouring out of Los Angeles.

The latest to get into the act was Bakersfield. There residents were told to turn the Los Angeles refugees out into the desert or the Tehachapi Mountains.

We wonder when and if the panic fever will strike Marin County? And if it does, how will it affect the people? Should Marin County arm itself against the hordes coming across the Golden Gate Bridge?

Or if the bridge is destroyed, should the Mill Valleyans arm themselves against the fleeing Sausalito residents? Should San Anselmo and Fairfax be armed against the people from Larkspur and Corte Madera? Or should Novato arm itself against the refugees from San Rafael?

This sort of nonsense should stop before it goes any further. It is inconceivable that any American should arm himself against any other American. What has happened to the pioneer spirit when it was everyone helped everyone else in the struggle to settle the wilderness?

If this spirit of neighborliness, of helping the other person in time of need had not existed since the beginning of our country, we suspect that the western boundary of this country would still be on Plymouth Rock.

JUST IN CASE you are still trying to get the last coat of sun tan in these Indian Summer days, remember there are only 60 shopping days until Christmas.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

GOP Chief Hitting Hard At Kennedy For Keeping Information From Public

WASHINGTON—Rep. William E. Miller of New York, new chairman of the Republican National Committee, is quite properly probing every possible chink in the Kennedy armor for the oncoming Congressional campaign.

Miller has been so expert at his work that the administration found it necessary to send Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey across the country to counter him.

Now Chairman Miller is opening up a new frontier of his own. He is directing criticism at the whole range of the administration's press and public relations practices and policies.

He accuses the Democrats of "running a tandem censorship-and-huckster operation at the highest government levels"—and holds the President and his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, primarily to blame.

CHAIRMAN MILLER makes his case in "Editor and Publisher," the widely read newspaper trade publication which carries his statement this week.

He has no trouble finding a wide assortment of complaints against the administration by the American Society of Newspaper Editors and Sigma Delta Chi (which were equally critical of the Eisenhower-Hagerty press policies) as well as individual newspapers and Washington reporters.

Although Miller does not prove his whole bill of particulars—since he embraces all of the complaints as if they were automatically valid—the hard core of his criticism is valid. The administration will be wise to heed it.

MILLER QUOTES White House Press Secretary Salinger as saying that "this administration is pledged to give the freest accest to the news and intends to do so." At which point Miller remarks:

"Back at the Kennedy news ranch the corral gate slammed shut on news stories of major importance to the American people."

Slammed shut in what way? That's the fair question and the Republican chairman gives three main examples:

1—Concealment of President Kennedy's injury. "The facts on the President's back ailment were suppressed for three weeks and revealed to reporters only after the need to appear in public with crutches forced it out."

This is fair criticism, I have never seen any justification or excuse for this episode.

2—The withholding of Premier Khrushchev's stern memorandum on Berlin. "News of Khrushchev's Berlin dictum, handed to President Kennedy at Vienna," Miller notes, "was quashed. No mention of it was made in the President's televised post-Vienna report. The press got wind of it from Soviet sources."

The White House can contend that there was no special reason to give publicity to Khrushchev's arguments.

3—INFREQUENT Kennedy press conferences.

Miller points out that when the President took office, White House aides promised he would be highly accessible and hold press conferences far more regularly than did President Eisenhower. He hasn't. They have averaged less than two a month — 15 Kennedy press conferences in nine months; 15 by Eisenhower during the comparable period.

Mill Valley School Board Plans To Study Budget

Mill Valley School District trustees will commence studying the 1962-63 budget Nov. 13, the board decided last night, so the district won't find itself in "the financial pinch" it is in this year.

Normally, the board begins its preliminary budget studies in late December or early January.

Present budget of $1,116,460 was declared "seriously deficient" in May by Supt. G. Robert McConnell, who said the reservers were "so low as to engender a feeling of insecurity in the financial management."

The board approved purchase of an accident insurance policy at $63 annually from North American Life and Casualty Co. to cover 1,700 students in grades four through eight while pupils are in transit to school-sponsored athletic events.

Butchers Approve One Wage Offer

Butchers Union members have accepted a wage increase offer by the retail jobbing houses but are still negotiating with the Retail Meat Dealers Assn. and chain store dealers for wage demands by the retail butcher shop workers.

The three-year contract with the jobbing houses established a $6 a week increase retroactive to Oct. 1, a $4 increase in 1962 and a $3 increase in 1963. Also agreed on were payments health and welfare payments by the employers, three-day funeral leave and other fringe benefits.

Signing the agreement were Marin County's two jobbing houses, Mission City Meat Co. and Marin Meat Co., both in San Rafael.

Meetings with the retail dealers will resume again next Monday, a union spokesman said today.

which burned about 300 square feet beside Rock Court in Kentfield yesterday. Raymond Cleary, 21, of 221 McAllister Avenue, a volunteer with the Kentfield department suffered first degree burns on his right leg. He also was treated at Marin General Hospital.

The Homestead fire, consuming brush, grass and eucalyptus trees, swept within 50 yards of the home of W. F. Mullen at 415 Laverne Avenue and within 100 yards of the home of Carl H. Modell, Homestead Valley Fire District secretary, at 403 Laverne Avenue.

Fifty-three firemen with 15 trucks from Homestead, Tamalpais Valley, and Marin County Fire Departments fought the blaze.

Firemen hauled hose 900 feet up the slope from a fire hydrant near Modell's home, and even farther from tankers on a fire trail above the blaze.

San Anselmo and Marin County departments battled the Sleepy Hollow blaze, which burned on both sides of Fawn Drive, destroying scrub oak and grass to the top of the ridge and sweeping near to several Fawn Drive homes.

"The fire was set deliberately," declared Asst. Fire Chief Frank Sousa of San Anselmo.

Exactly the same words were used by Fire Chief Owen of Tamalpais Valley about the Homestead blaze.

Miss Dean said the intruder answered the description of a man who robbed Mrs. Muriel McDevitt of 2070 Pacific Avenue, San Francisco, of $50,000 in jewels on Friday. He was described as "looking like Frank Sinatra, only a little heavier."

Private Architect To Design College

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The North Bay's new Sonoma State College will be designed by a private architect, not the state Division of Architecture, the board of trustees for state colleges has decided.

The board, empowered by law to select its own architects, chose John Carl Warnecke and Associates of San Francisco to design the new college at Cotati.

Warnecke was one of 14 private firms assigned as consulting architects for master planning. About 40 per cent of the work was given private firms and 60 per cent to the state architectural division.

Art And Garden Club Elects Mrs. Feidler

Mrs. Arthur W. Feidler of San Rafael last night was re-elected member-at-large to the board of directors of the Marin Art and Garden Society.

Mrs. Feidler defeated her only opponent, Philip C. Smith of San Anselmo. More than 75 members were present at the annual meeting. The vote count was not announced.

Chain, 4 Gold Keys Stolen From Auto

Someone entered the parked car of San Francisco newspaper columnist Herb Caen and stole a chain and four gold keys worth about $200, the victim reported to Marin sheriff's deputies yesterday.

Dinner Meeting

The Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce will hold its first fall meeting tonight with a cocktail hour and dinner beginning at 7 o'clock at the Point Reyes Community Center. The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported yesterday that the meeting would be held at Stinson Beach.

OBITUARIES

Sausalito's Anna Scott Succumbs

Anna L. Scott, 93, a resident of Sausalito for 47 years, died today in a Folsom sanitarium after a long illness.

She came to Sausalito in 1912 and had lived at 510 Johnson Street up to two years ago, when she went to a rest home in Oakland. She moved to Folsom one month ago.

Mrs. Scott was born in Jefferson, Iowa. She had lived in California since 1902 and was in San Francisco during the 1906 fire and earthquake.

She was a 50-year member of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305, a 50-year member of Mill Valley Chapter 219, Order of Eastern Star and a veteran member of Rebekah Circle 1 of San Francisco. She was also a member of the Sausalito Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Scott is survived by a son, Walter J. Scott of Fair Oaks, Sacramento County; four daughters, Mrs. Ruth S. Dudley of Mill Valley; Mrs. Margaret A. Drown and Mrs. Lucy B. Petersen of Oakland, and Mrs. Elsie F. Campbell of Los Gatos; two brothers, Roy D. Whipple of Boise, Idaho, and Sam Whipple of Redwood Valley, Mendocino County, and a sister, Mrs. Josephine Knowles of Boise. She also leaves four grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley under auspices of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305. Interment will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

THOMAS TAYLOR

Funeral services for Thomas A. Taylor, vice president of the Schwabacher-Frey Co. of San Francisco, will be held at the Crosby-N. Gray and Co. Chapel in Burlingame at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Taylor, 62, died of a heart attack Sunday at his Hillsborough home.

He was the father of Thomas A. Taylor Jr. of San Rafael.

Taylor had helped pioneer the printing of magnetic bank checks in commercial plants. He was a past president of the Stationers Assn. of Northern California.

He is survived by his wife, Leila; two sons, Gordon Taylor of Menlo Park and Thomas Taylor Jr. of San Rafael; five grandchildren; and a sister and brother, Mrs. William Heneck and Edward Taylor of St. Louis.

ILYEEN CORTHELL

Funeral services for Mrs. Ilyeen R. Corthell, wife of Hugh Corthell of Mill Valley, will be held at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Russell and Gooch Chapel, Mill Valley.

Mrs. Corthell, 53, who had been under doctor's care for months, was found dead in bed Saturday by her husband. An autopsy has been performed.

A native of Nevada, she resided at 14 Walnut Avenue in Mill Valley. She was a member and past president of the Mill Valley American Legion Auxiliary.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Nellis E. Corthell of Reno; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Ann Mathews of Carmel Valley, and five grandchildren.

Interment will be in Presidio National Cemetery, San Francisco.

Proposed 'Open-Area' Ordinance Is Revived

A county excavation ordinance and a proposed new "open-area district" planning classification, both dropped by the county supervisors last year, were fanned back toward life by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

The planners set an Oct. 23 hearing to reinitiate proceedings which were carried almost to completion last year, but checked when the supervisors decided against publication to make the ordinance effective.

This ordinance would give the Public Work Department authority to review almost all excavations, instead of only the major ones as at present.

Growing concern of Tiburon residents and organizations about the future of Northwestern Pacific Railroad property on the waterfront put pressure on the supervisors, who requested the planning commission to act.

The commission decided on a double-barreled effort at solution. On Nov. 6 it will hold a hearing to revive its last-year project of a new "open area" district which would care for such emergencies as that in Tiburon. On Oct. 23 it will consider what specific lands might come under such an ordinance.

Novato Hospital Theft

Approximately $19 in cash was taken from the soft drink machine in the Novato Hospital cafeteria, sometime between Friday and yesterday, Alton Brooks Bench, hospital employee, reported.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY

Natural Marin Beauty

for those who've loved our county

The beauty of Mount Tamalpais Cemetery is typically Marin. Here in a setting of soft, rolling hills and lovely vistas are Marin's native trees and shrubs, accented by beautiful lawns and flowers.

For over 90 years leading Marin families have chosen Mount Tamalpais as a final resting place. One good reason is the substantial endowment fund which assures the care and maintenance of this cemetery in the years ahead.

We invite your inspection of this peaceful site. Our staff is always ready to answer your questions and describe Mount Tamalpais facilities.

Bressoud, Landrith Top Draft Choices; Reds Lose Chacon

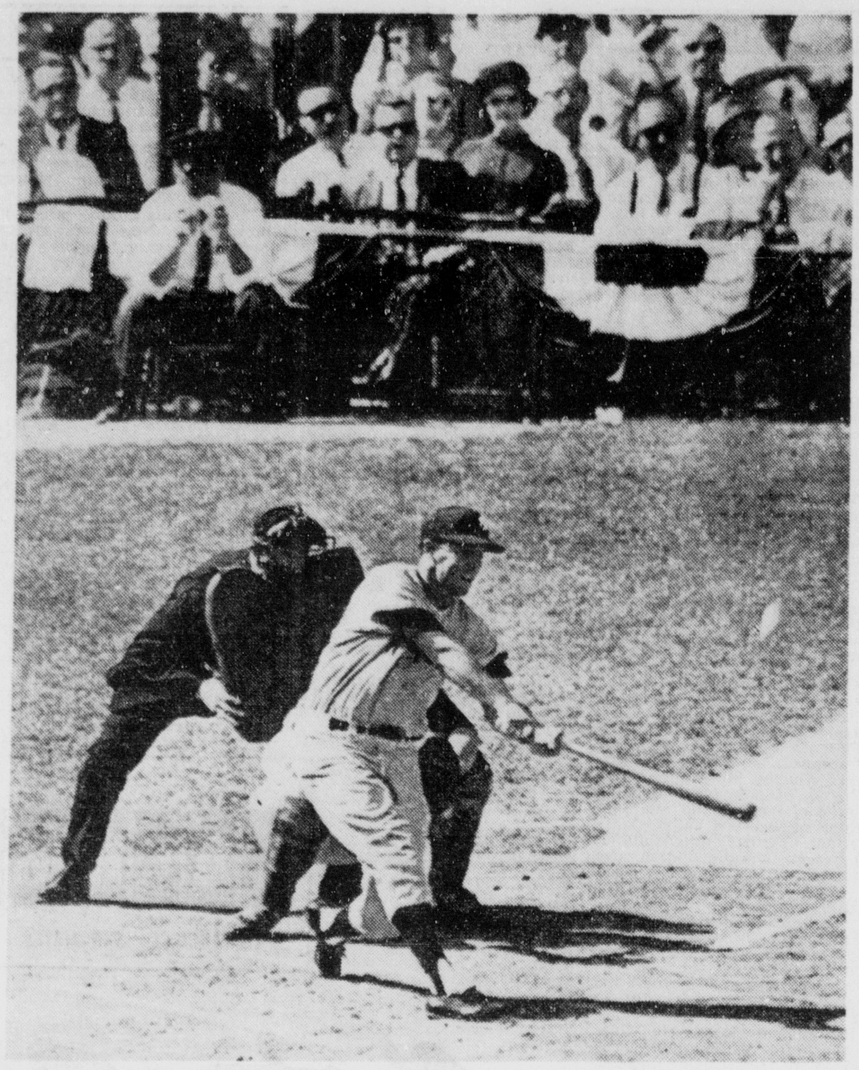

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—The Houston Colts today selected infielder Eddie Bressoud of the San Francisco Giants and the New York Mets chose catcher Hobie Landrith, also of Giants, as their first players today in the $4,200,000 player draft to stock the two new National League baseball clubs.

The Colts, with general manager Paul Richards doing the picking, chose Bob Aspromonte, Los Angeles infielder, as their second choice, while George Weiss, who did the picking for the Mets, selected second baseman Elio Chacon of the Cincinnati Reds.

Each club will select 16 players at $75,000 each and also select four players at $125,000 each. They also have the option of selecting up to eight other players at $50,000.

HOUSTON: Infielder Eddie Bressoud, San Francisco; infielder Bob Asprononte, Los Angeles; infielder Bob Lillis, Los Angeles; pitcher Dick Drott, Chicago; outfielder Al Heist, Chicago; outfielder Roman Mejias, Pittsburgh; outfielder George Williams, Philadelphia; pitcher Jesse Hickman, Philadelphia; catcher Merritt Ranew, Milwaukee; outfielder Don Taussig, St. Louis; pitcher Bobby Shantz, Pittsburgh; infielder, Norm Larker, Los Angeles; pitcher Sam Jones, San Francisco; pitcher Paul Roof, Milwaukee; pitcher Ken Johnson; Cincinnati and infielder Dick Gernert, Cincinnati.

NEW YORK: Catcher Hobie Landrith, San Francisco; infielder Elio Chacon, Cincinnati; pitcher Roger Craig, Los Angeles; outfielder Gus Bell, Cincinnati; outfielder Joe Christopher, Pittsburgh; infielder Felix Mantilla, Milwaukee; first baseman Gil Hodges, Los Angeles; pitcher Craig Anderson, St. Louis; pitcher Ray Daviault, San Francisco; outfielder John Demerit, Milwaukee; pitcher Al Jackson, Pittsburgh; outfielder Sam Drake, Chicago; catcher Chris Canazzero, St. Louis; first baseman Ed Bouchee, Chicago; catcher Clarence Coleman, Pihiladelphia, and outfielder Bobby Gene Smith, Philadelphia.

Many Yanks Share Honors With Ford

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Now that the smoke has cleared from the New York Yankees' massacre of the outgunned Cincinnati Reds, a whimsical pitcher with withering finesse, lefty Whitey Ford, stands as the 1961 World Series hero.

Ford broke a Babe Ruth pitching record and hamstrung the Reds with 14 innings of scoreless pitching while Roger (61-homer) Maris belter only one vital blow and Mickey Mantle contributed mainly medical reports in the series won by the Yanks, four games to one.

Ford, a chunky, twinkling-eyed chap of 32, won the series opener last Wednesday in New York with a two-hit, 2-0 shutout and was credited with a 7-0 fourth-game triumph he didn't finish Sunday.

This was a wide open series for hero candidates. They popped from the width of the Yankee bench in varying degrees.

They included:

Big John Blanchard, whose .400 batting effort in a utility role included two extremely timely homers.

Bobby Richardson, who continued his amazing series hot hitting with a 9 for 23 record and a .391 average after collecting 11 for 30 and a .367 mark in the 1960 Yankee series' upset by the Pirates.

Another utility star, Hector Lopez, who slammed a home run, triple and single in 9 trips for the series RBI high of 7.

Cletis Boyer, the octopus-like third sacker, who hit when the chips were down.

And, to a certain extent, Maris, whose ninth-inning homer gave the Yankees a 3-2 triumph over the Reds in Saturday's third game, and Mantle, who played 11 painful innings with a festered right hip.

But, in the final analysis, it was the light-hearted, heavy-armed Ford who rang a loud midnight alarm on Cincinnati's Cinderella team.

'This Team Is Greatest Of Them All'

By YOGI BERRA

NEW YORK (AP)—This has to be the greatest Yankee team I ever played on and I've now been through 12 World Series.

It had to be. We had six men who hit 21 or more home runs. We have two men — Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle—who hit 115 homers. And we set a home-run record of 240 in winning the American League pennant.

National Leaguers thought we were weak because our league expanded and all we heard all season was how well balanced the other league was. I think we upheld the honor of Joe Cronin's league pretty good.

Other Yankee teams had great players like Joe Dimaggio, Hank Bauer and Phil Rizzuto and pitchers like Allie Reynolds, Vic Raschi, Ed Lopat and Joe Page but we had team balance.

Ralph Houk, our manager, rebuilt the pitching staff in one season. You can't do that with a so-so team. Fred Hutchinson remade his pitching staff, too. But we had Whitey Ford. Ralph made him our No. 1 pitcher right from the start, using him with three days rest most of the year and he won 25 games and pitched 14 runless innings in the World Series against the Reds to beat Babe Ruth's pitching record. Whitey always was our No. 1 pitcher with me.

Yanks Won The Series 'For Ralph'

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Ralph Houk's gone fishing — and while he's at it he can congratulate himself for not snapping at the bait of three other managerial offers last year.

A year ago this time, two clubs, the Detroit Tigers and Kansas City Athletics, were after Houk to become their manager.

Earlier during the 1960 season, the Boston Red Sox let it be known that he would be most welcome at Fenway Park, too.

Houk, then a coach with the Yankees, wanted more than anything else to become a major league manager. With the Yankees preferably, although the last thing he would do would be to step on Casey Stengel's toes.

The Yanks made the decision when they let go Casey.

No one, outside of the Yankee players perhaps, fully realized what winning the World Series yesterday meant to Houk.

"I could talk from now until Christmas and I still couldn't explain how much it meant to me personally," said the elated ex-army major after the Yankees mauled the Reds yesterday.

"But don't make a big thing about how I feel," Houk pleaded. "That's not important to anyone but me. The players really did it all. I didn't get any hits."

IT'S OFFICIAL! HITCHCOCK TO MANAGE O'S

BALTIMORE (AP) — Billy Hitchcock, 43, was named officially today to manage the Baltimore Orioles next baseball season.

Lee MacPhail, Oriole president, confirmed Hitchcock's hiring before a news conference.

Hitchcock's contract will be for one year, MacPhail said. The salary was not announced, but it was guessed to be around $30,000.

Hitchcock, an Alabaman, succeeds Paul Richards who quit after seven years to become general manager of the new Houston member of the National League. It will be Hitchcock's first managing job.

Small Crowd Sees Saints Whip Jets

STOCKTON (UPI)—A crowd of less than 300 watched the San Francisco Saints whip the Los Angeles Jets of the fledgling American Basketball League last night, 112-105 in an exhibition contest.

The Saints took an early 10-9 lead and maintained it throughout the game. The Jets soon trailed by 20 points until guard Hal Lear displayed some fancy sharpshooting, and narrowed the gap to 87-85.

Lear's 29 points were high for the contest. Kenny Sears led the Saints with 23 points.

FOOTBALL RANKINGS

Ol' Miss Takes Over Top Spot From Iowa

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mississippi's rollicking Rebels took over as the nation's No. 1 college football team today, replacing Iowa of the Big Ten.

Ole Miss, with a 3-0 record this year and unbeaten in 18 games dating back to 1959, was an overwhelming choice by The Associated Press' regional experts, gaining 21 first-place votes.

Iowa, named the top team for the first two weeks and in the preseason poll, edged Alabama for third place.

Notre Dame made its first appearance since early in 1959 for a No. 8 ranking. Baylor, 10th last week, moved up to No. 9 and surprising Maryland, after three wins in as many starts, was 10th.

Dropping from the select list were Syracuse, beaten 22-21 by Maryland last Saturday, and Georgia Tech, a 10-0 loser to Louisiana State. Tech had been ranked third and Syracuse seventh.

The top ten teams with first-place votes in parentheses:

1.	Mississippi (21)	384
2.	Iowa (11)	341
3.	Alabama (4)	329
4.	Texas (3)	286
5.	Michigan State (2)	259
6.	Michigan (2)	240
7.	Ohio State	126
8.	Notre Dame (1)	103
9.	Baylor	98
10.	Maryland	77

Beavers Gear Drills

CORVALLIS, Ore., (UPI) — The Oregon State Beavers geared their drills today to a pected from Wisconsin Saturday. Coach Tom Prothro's squad will try to even its season record at 2-2 in Madison, Wis. The Beavers worked on both offense and defense during yesterday's practice session.

Marin Grid Teams Brace For League Openers This Week

By DON KEOWN

They start playing for keeps this weekend on Marin County gridirons.

The pre-league preliminaries are over, and this Friday and Saturday the six members of the Marin County Athletic League will be mixing it up in football contests that will kick off 1961 conference competition.

Friday night on the San Rafael High School field the host Bulldogs, yet to taste defeat this fall, square off against the Marin Catholic Wildcats, still thirsting for their first victory.

NOVATO GAME

Then on Saturday afternoon on the new Novato field, the Hornets will entertain the Tamalpais Indians.

And finally, Saturday night, at College of Marin Stadium in Kentfield, arch-rivals Redwood and Sir Francis Drake will collide head-on.

While the San Rafael Bulldogs rate as decided favorites in their conference debut, both the Novato-Tam and Redwood-Drake tilts shape up as games that could go either way.

And even the Bulldogs are taking nothing for granted. Coach Bob Muster is working his charges hard this week to correct two weaknesses, a tendency toward fumbling and an inability to convert extra points consistently.

In addition, Muster was also displeased with the coverage of Piedmont punt and kickoff returns by the Bulldogs last weekend and is giving that department some special attention this week.

As for Marin Catholic, it's tackling, tackling and more tackling for the Wildcats in their drills this week.

Coach Harry Moore was dismayed with the inability of the Wildcats to bring down Cloverdale ball carriers last Friday night. And he is well aware that this weakness could be disastrous against San Rafael if not corrected.

Comparing San Rafael with Palma, the team which Moore regards as the best his boys have faced so far this season, the Wildcat mentor is inclined to give Palma an edge offensively, but rates the Bulldogs as the better defensive eleven.

Moore has no doubt but what it is going to take a far better performance than anything his usually outmanned Wildcats have put together to date this fall if the Wildcats are to pull off what would be the upset of the season against the Bulldogs. And the key to Marin Catholic hopes for a good showing, he feels, may well lie in the ability of the Wildcats to develop the knack of tackling with more authority.

Against Drake, Redwood High will be out to protect its record of never having lost to either of its Tamalpais High School District rivals, Drake or Tam. In its third year in the Marin County Athletic League, Redwood has never dropped a MCAL game. Its only loss to a Marin rival was a 25-12 thumping by San Rafael in 1958—the Giants initial year in high school football.

Giant spirits got a big lift from the team's impressive win last weekend over Riordan. Furthermore, the Redwood team came out of that contest without an injury. "We seem to be back on the right road," observes coach Bob Troppmann.

Troppmann is high in his praise of fullback Kip Solinsky. Not only has Solinsky scored all five of the Giants' TDs this fall and done a bang-up job of linebacking, but, according to Troppmann, "he has also developed into the kind of team leader that every football squad needs."

Over at Drake, head coach Bob Franceschini is well aware of Solinsky's ability and is spending no small part of the Pirates' practice time this week trying to devise ways of stopping the hardrunning Giant fullback.

Of last weekend's loss to Analy, Franceschini philosophizes: "I think it was just a case of running into a good team that was rebounding from a defeat the previous week. This week I hope we do the rebounding."

He regards the Saturday night tussle as "pretty closely matched." The Pirates, he says, will go into the big game in good physical condition. Only a couple of charley horses and some other minor hurts were suffered against Analy.

Tamalpais High, one of the luckier schools in the injury department in recent seasons, is suffering a reversal of fortune this fall.

Coach Jim Hanretty is getting particularly hard-pressed for guards and halfbacks. In last weekend's loss to Santa Rosa, ace guard Donn Johnson suffered a knee injury that will require surgery and sideline him for the season. Starting halfback Everett White received a broken nose and will sit the Novato game out.

HURT EARLIER

Linebacker-guard Paul Farren and halfback Don Johnston had been lost earlier on injuries.

Replacements are going to have to come largely from the jayvee ranks. And halfbacks Chuck Muizers, Warren Domino and Ruben Moten are likely to be putting in some extra time on the gridiron with only green replacements behind them.

Despite the beating absorbed from a good Santa Rosa team last Friday, Hanretty found the spirit shown by his charges to be heartening. "The boys were behind 19-0 before they knew it," he says, "but they didn't quit."

GOOD YARDAGE

Although the Novato ground game picked up good yardage against Ukiah last Friday, Hornet coach Marlin Olsen is, nevertheless, giving top priority to polishing his offense this week. He feels that the coordination of the line and backfield, particularly on blocking assignments, can stand improvement.

Olsen was pleased with the defensive work of his team against Ukiah. The Hornets limited their foes to less than one third of their own total yardage.

Offensive ends Mike Gougler and Martin Baccaglio earned some special praise from their coach for their work in last week's game.

Olsen has warned his charges that, while Tam may be short on depth at the halfback spots, it is still long on speed and that they will have to be on their toes to keep the likes of Muizers, Domino and Moten contained Saturday afternoon.

The Friday and Saturday night games will begin at 8 o'clock, the Novato tilt on Saturday at 2 p.m. The College of Marin Tars will be using their own field Friday evening when they host the University of San Francisco. Terra Linda hosts the Lowell High Jayvees Friday at 4. Tomales has a Friday night date at Calistoga. And the San Rafael Military Academy plays in Petaluma Saturday night against St. Vincent's of that city.

Here's Wrap Up On The Series: Reds Never Should Have Come

CONNOLLY

To wrap up the 1961 world's series leaves only one conclusion—the Cincy Reds never belonged in it.

The straw that broke the backs of Cincinnati players was the game winning homerun of Roger Maris in the third game. It was, to these old eyes, the definite turning point in the series. The Reds never recovered.

A great majority of the baseball writers, aside from perhaps the Cincy Reds own horn tooters, stamped the team as a hustling, fighting group of misfits who kept going places and doing things they had no right to go or do.

All the credit any losing team can expect is for people to say they fought right down to the finish. They did.

But let's go over some interesting items.

Freddie Hutchinson's biggest managerial mistake, in our estimation, was to sacrifice his best pitcher TWICE in an attempt to beat the Yankee ace pitcher, Whitey Ford.

In golf or tennis, it is customary to bracket the best performers so that they do not eliminate one another at the start but keep in the tussle so they are likely to come into the finals.

Ford, on his world's series performance alone, had a distinct advantage over young Jim O'Toole. Then why start O'Toole against Ford? Couldn't the Reds have started experienced Bob Purkey against Ford and then saved O'Toole for the second game with Joie Jay going in the third and so on.

IT IS NO great secret that the Giants, Dodgers, or Braves would have been much stronger and harder to whip than the Reds.

Redleg fielding was shaky, their catching shabby and hitting away below par, either from choking or pressure.

A lot of things had to fall into place in the National League 1961 jig-saw puzzle for the Reds to win the pennant.

Pittsburgh, last year's winner had to fold; Milwaukee had to wilt on account of ball player bickering and managerial wrangling; the Dodgers blamed old age for its collapse and the Giants wound up in the shed when the players lost control after Dark.

BUT IT WAS JUSTLY claimed before the series started that the Yanks were old pros at world's series play. Red boosters tried to belittle this claim. But if you watched TV or listened to the radio you have to believe the Reds were all tied up and under terrific pressure as against the free and easy swinging Yankees.

Man for man the Yanks were more experienced in every position both in the infield and in the outfield.

The scouting of the Reds by Yankees really revealed how outclassed they were and pointed to their weaknesses.

So you can write off the 1961 world's series as a terrible upset for the Reds to win and a more terrible mistake to try and match themselves against a highly superior aggregation of players.

SO LET'S SAY the Reds lost to the Yanks because they couldn't match the power, fielding or experience of their opponents.

Cannon May Be Benched By Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—Billy Cannon, the powerful Heisman Trophy winner from Louisiana State, may move to the bench this week as the Houston Oilers try to improve a miserable 1-3 record in the American Football League.

Coach Lou Rymkus said he is thinking of benching Cannon—and several other Houston regulars—in an effort to spark the defending AFL championship team.

"Cannon isn't blocking or running," Rymkus said last night. "If he's on the bench it will be a combination of things. I'll have to talk it over with my staff, and with Billy, before I decide."

Rymkus said Rich Michael, an all-league tackle, is definitely going to be benched for Friday night's game with Boston.

He said Bob Kelly, a rookie, will take Michael's place and said Mike Dukes, Charley Milstead and Mark Johnston may ride the bench.

"The kids just aren't blocking," he said.

Raiders Plan Major Change

OAKLAND (UPI)—Coach Marty Feldman said that he planned "major" changes—both offensive and defensive — in forthcoming Oakland Raider games.

He said he was "not talking about personnel. We're just putting in some new stuff." He refused to elaborate further.

The Raiders, who were idle last weekend, take on Denver at Denver Sunday.

Defensive end Jon Jelacic has been called to active duty in the service and Feldman plans to activate ex-Illinois tackle Cliff Roberts.

BERKELEY BATTLE

Washington, Bears Have Weapons

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Washington and California each boast new weapons to throw against each other when they meet at Berkeley in their Big Five Conference opener Saturday.

Coach Jim Owens of the defending champion Washington Huskies uncovered quarterback Pete Ohler, who played his first collegiate football game against Pittsburgh last week and threw two touchdown passes in the 22-17 victory.

For California, the previously unsung fellows in the surprising 14-14 tie at Missouri were sophomore halfbacks Alan Nelson and Rudy Carvajal.

All three youngsters drew attention of California Coach Marv Levy at yesterday's meeting of the Northern California Football Writers Association.

MORE PUNCH

"Nelson and Carvajal gave the backfield the additional punch it needed," Levy declared. "Nelson is a 195-pounder, fast, tough and a good competitor. He'll be heard from a lot in the future. Rudy is not as big or fast, but he's an excellent blocker and good runner.

"Ohler, of course, presents a new problem for us, or rather compounds our problems for Saturday."

Nelson of Ontario, Calif., beat out his former high school teammate, Randy Gold, as the writers' choice for Northern California's Back of the Week.

Quarterback Gold, who suffered a pre-season knee injury, saw his first 1961 service against Missouri and engineered the two touchdown marches, scoring the second tally. Nelson's 76-yard run had set it up. So California, beaten twice, came back to tie the undefeated Tigers.

THREE INTERCEPTIONS

"The return of Gold also freed Larry Balliett for defensive use and he intercepted three passes," Levy continued. "Balliett is very smart in the secondary and does a lot to steer our defense."

Balliett, the No. 2 quarterback, had taken over on offense when Gold was out.

Fullback George Pierovich and guard Doug Graham suffered leg injuries in the Missouri game but Levy termed them not serious.

Lakers Look Like Contenders After Beating Warriors

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Lakers, returning today from Portland, battle the Philadelphia Warriors tonight. They beat the Warriors last night 115-102 and gave further indication they are going to be in the running for the National Basketball Association championship.

The Lakers' great young guard, Jerry West, topped the scorers in Portland with 30 points. He scored two points more than Warrior center Wilt Chamberlain.

The Lakers received good inside play from Bobby Sims, their draft choice from Pepperdine College, and Jim Krebs. When they had their first five on the floor, however, the Lakers spurted and widened the scoring gap.

Tonight's game in the Sports Arena will be the last pre-season showing of the Lakers at home before their league opener against Detroit Oct. 27.

Tourney For The Handicapped Scheduled As November Event

A tournament for handicap bowlers is scheduled to begin Nov. 5 at Nave Lanes with the proceeds to go for CARE packages to needy persons in Guatemala, announced Edwin Gardner, president of the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Any Marin handicap bowlers are eligible, said Gardner. Entry fees will cost $6 for the contest which is expected to extend for six weeks. The chamber's CARE program is to send agricultural hand tools, books, and recreation and classroom kits to needy villagers in Guatemala.

Tournament chairman Bob Meisner said prizes will be given for the first five placers and a special prize.

CARE stands for Cooperative for American Relief Everywhere, Inc.

In other bowling highlights, Louise Fedrick has won the month-long Powder Puff Singles tournament at Country Club Bowl with a 586 series. Second and third placers respectively were Peggy McMurty and Dorothy Reiman in the contest which ended last week.

Nave Lanes has announced a sponsor is needed for its Physical Handicapped League which bowls every Wednesday at the alley. Interested persons may contact Richard Nave at the lanes.

At 9:45 a.m. tomorrow a free instruction class in bowling will be held at Nave. It will include a film. Instructions are also given for junior bowlers Saturday mornings.

Several bowlers broke the "625 Barrier" this week. The highest series announced was thrown by Frank Wilson in the consistently powerful Marin Masters League at Nave. He recorded a 650-237-235. His teammate Paul Gottlieb rolled a 642-233-211. In the Country Club 900 Invitational Classic, Austin Crane knocked off a 630-257-193 series. He also threw the high game of the week at Country Club. Meanwhile at Nave in the Thursday Night Mixed Doubles another 640 was tallied by lady Em Smith. The feat was accomplished with games of 225, 212 and 203. And at Greenbrae Lanes, Ray Brusati of the 910 Classic League rolled a 628-201-236.

Ex-Superintendent Of Fairfax Streets Quits

Resignation of A. August Pfalzgraff, who was Fairfax's last fulltime street superintendent, from city employ was accepted without comment by the Fairfax City Council last night.

City Clerk Alice Leonesio announced Pfalzgraff had submitted his resignation, effective immediately. The council approved without debate.

"I have no comment to make," said Pfalzgraff today, "except to say that I have no definite plan for the future."

Pfalzgraff was appointed superintendent of streets at $475 a month, in December, 1957, after passing a civil service examination. He had been employed in the city street department for three years at that time and had been acting street superintendent for three months.

Six months later, he suddenly resigned, pleading inexperience, and asked to be put back on his former job of street equipment operator.

As soon as that resignation was accepted, then-Mayor Edward A. Smith proposed the street superintendent job be combined with that of fire chief. After heated debate, Smith's plan was approved, with Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton becoming part-time street superintendent at a $100-per-month increase over his salary as fire chief.

Eichler Petition For Nunes Ranch Gains

Two actions by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday prepared the way for home development on 206 acres of Nunes Ranch land north of the Lucas Valley road and west of the county hospital and farm.

The planners approved and sent to the county supervisors for the Oct. 17 agenda a petition by Eichler Homes, Inc., to rezone 91 acres from agricultural residential to planned community district.

Eichler proposes multiple and row-house development on part of the land, a small commercial area, a school site, and possibly a church site.

The other action was approval of a tentative map for a proposed 115-acre Nunes Ranch Subdivision just west of the first area. It was termed "a conventional Eichler subdivision "of single family homes." Lucas Valley Road is to be extended to serve it.

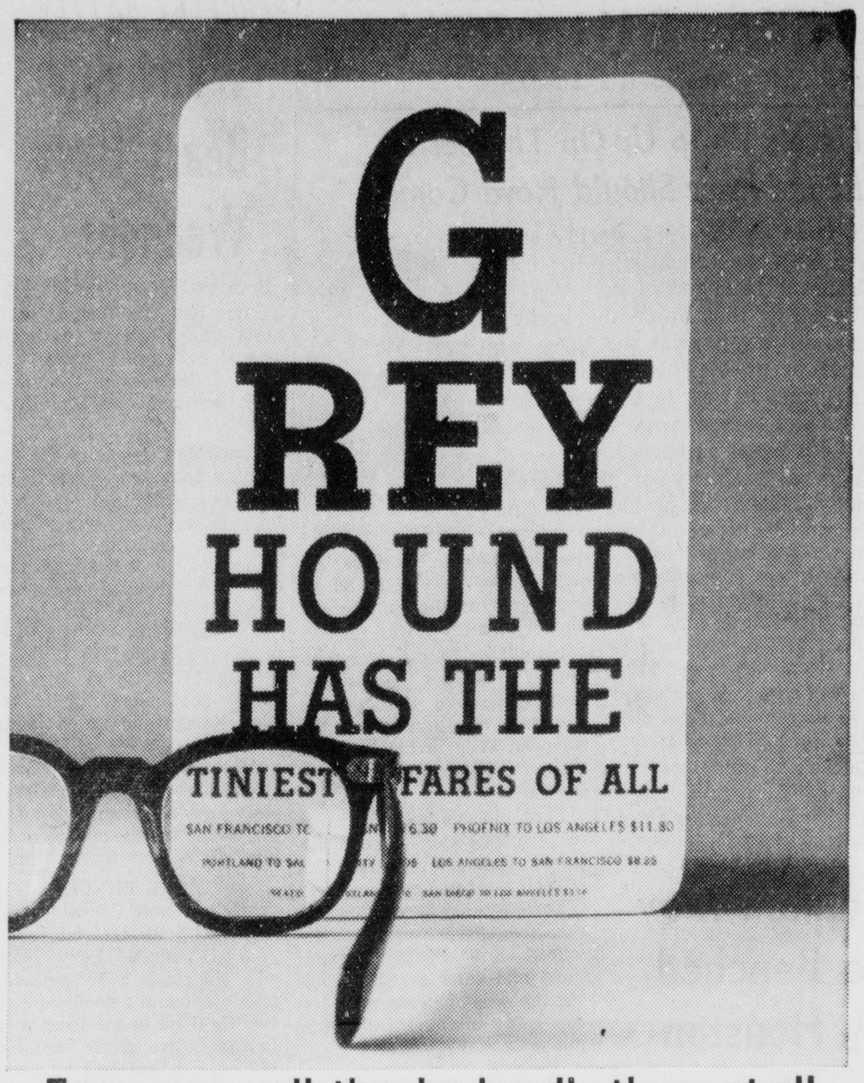

The commission also:

1. Approved a tentative map of the 19-acre Portola Estates Subdivision in Santa Venetia, subject to soil engineer approval and Public Works Department supervision as to drainage.
2. Continued to Oct. 23 Keith N. Morrison's petition, subject of many protests from neighbors, to rezone 2.68 acres for apartment construction between Tiburon Boulevard and the railroad near Alto at the base of the Tiburon Peninsula.
3. Denied multiple residence rezoning for property of Joseph Pell and Mrs. Ethel Brown comprising 30,000 square feet at Knoll Lane and South Knoll Road, Alto, but set for Oct. 23 hearing on a petition for planned residential zoning of the same land.

West Marin School Unit Opposes Merging

The West Marin Union Elementary School District board agreed last night to formally oppose unification of their district with other districts making up Tomales Joint Union High School District.

After four hours discussion, at which about 15 parents were present, the board agreed to send a representative to the State Board of Education at Inglewood, Los Angeles County, on Nov. 9 and 10.

The delegate, as yet un-named, will "present the board's point of view and ask that the unification proposal be sent back to the Marin County School District Organization Committee for further study," said Supt. George Stratton.

Unification of the high school district and seven elementary districts has been approved by both the Marin and Sonoma County unification committees.

If the unification proposal cannot be stopped through an appeal to the state board, the district will organize a citizen committee to campaign against the unification prior to an election, Stratton said.

State law provides that if more than two districts are included in a unification election, and one of the districts contains more than one-half the registered voters, a simple majority of "no" votes in that district can defeat the proposal. Clerks of Sonoma and Marin counties are checking the percentage of voters in the West Marin district, Stratton said.

Board members said they considered the proposed unification a "geographical monstrosity." If forced to join the Tomales district, which extends from Bodega Bay to Samuel P. Taylor State Park, the district would total only about 750 pupils.

In the only other business last night, the superintendent informed the board that a three-and-one-half acre site adjoining West Marin School had been approved by the State Board of Education for an addition to the school. The proposed purchase of the site must now be approved by the State Dept. of Finance and the allocations board, Stratton told the trustees.

Savings, Loan Applications Hearing Set

Three applications for savings and loan offices in Novato will be aired by the California Division of Savings and Loan at a hearing in San Francisco on Oct. 26.

Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn. of San Anselmo has again applied to establish a branch office in Novato, the division announced today in Sacramento. Also, Home Mutual Savings and Loan Assn. of San Francisco has applied for permission to open a Novato branch.

Earlier, Novato Savings and Loan Assn. had applied for a charter. Hearing on that had been scheduled for Oct. 26 at 10 a.m. at the division's office at 30 Tenth Street, San Francisco. All hearings will now be held at the same session, the division announced.

Ross Valley and Novato Savings applied last year for permission to open Novato offices. The division of savings and loan at that time ruled that Novato was served sufficiently by the four existing savings and loan associations in Marin: Ross Valley in San Anselmo, Marin County and Northwestern in San Rafael, and Homestead in Sausalito.

There was also a third entry at that time, another company also styled Novato Savings and Loan.

COOK A BEEF pot roast to serve as hearty sandwiches. "Pot Roast Sandwiches" are delicious made with flavorful California beef, soft rolls and a savory butter spread.

Pound Cake Recipe

Pound Cake is an all time favorite cake, yet when you think about the usual number of eggs and the amount of butter that go into a pound cake you understand why today's cooks pass this good cake by.

BALANCED POUND CAKE

3 cups sifted cake flour
3½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup margarine
1 (8-ounce) package cream cheese
1½ cups sugar
3 eggs, beaten
⅓ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift cake flour, baking powder and salt together. Cream margarine and cream cheese. Gradually add sugar; cream until light and fluffy. Add beaten eggs and blend well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, blending well after each addition. Stir in vanilla. Pour into a lightly greased and floured 10 X 4-inch tube pan. Bake in 350 degree F. (moderate) oven until cake tests done, about 1 hour. Makes one tube cake.

BALANCED POUND cake to tempt the appetite, to help out with the budget. It's made with only three eggs and the new balanced-oil margarine.

Beef Roast Makes Savory Sandwiches

Tender, flavorful beef pot roast makes the best-ever sandwiches. Here's a new way of making them. Spread hot dog rolls with a "Savory Butter" made by blending mustard, horse-radish, pickle and grated carrot into softened butter. Add crisp lettuce and generous slices of beef roast. Save the best slices, for a change, to make these hearty "Pot Roast Sandwiches." Then, serve the smaller pieces in a rich gravy made from the beef cooking liquid.

Here's a delicious way to cook California beef for pot roast. Rub the meat with a mixture of salt, paprika and flour. Brown well on all sides. Then add lemon juice and rind, honey, bouillon cubes, water and onion. Cover and simmer until meat is tender. Let the beef cool in the liquid, then drain and refrigerate the meat until ready to use. Thicken the cooking liquid and serve as gravy over slices of beef. Or, add the small ends of meat and heat—spoon over toasted French bread, mashed potatoes, rice or noodles.

POT ROAST SANDWICHES

4½ pound beef cross rib or other pot roast
1 teaspoon garlic salt
1 teaspoon paprika
2 or 3 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons shortening
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons honey or brown sugar
2 bouillon cubes
1 cup water
1 small onion, chopped
Savory Butter
Hot dog rolls or other bread
Crisp lettuce

SAVORY BUTTER

½ cup butter
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon drained horse-radish
2 tablespoons drained sweet or dill pickle relish
¼ cup grated carrot

Rub beef with a mixture of salt, paprika and flour. Brown over medium heat, in heated shortening, on all sides. Add all remaining ingredients except butter, rolls and lettuce. Cover and simmer until meat is tender, about 2½ hours. Cool in liquid; drain and save liquid*; refrigerate meat. When ready to make rolls or other bread with butter. Arrange lettuce and meat in rolls.

Savory Butter: Soften butter, blend in all remaining ingredients. Makes about ⅔ cup or enough for about 10 to 12 sandwiches.

Note: The rich cooking liquid may be thickened slightly with a little cornstarch mixed with cold water. Serve as gravy over slices of beef pot roast. Or, add small ends of meat to gravy, heat and spoon over toasted French bread, mashed potatoes, rice or noodles.

St. Vincent Club Writes Cookbook

"A Treasure Chest of Recipes," a 250-page cook book recently published in Petaluma by St. Vincent's Mothers' Club, contains over 500 recipes contributed by club members and parishioners of St. Vincent's Church.

Homemakers looking for interesting and economical menus will find "family tested" recipes of all kinds in this loose-leaf book. Among its features are the sections devoted to "Foreign Specialties," "Lenten Dishes," and "Teen-agers Favorites."

Copies may be purchased from Mrs. Paul Respini, 962 Phillips Ave., Petaluma or Mrs. Harold Van Coops, 311 Liberty St. Petaluma.

Quick Dishes Are Topic For Cooking School On Friday

Chef Paul Mayer will demonstrate the preparation of quick dishes at Friday's session of the Outdoor Art Club's "L' Ecole De Cuisine," according to Mrs. William Pemberton, chairman.

The dishes Mayer will prepare are "suppa pavese" (soup); shrimp cocktail wilhelmshohe; scallopini pizzarola; and banan maitre, a dessert.

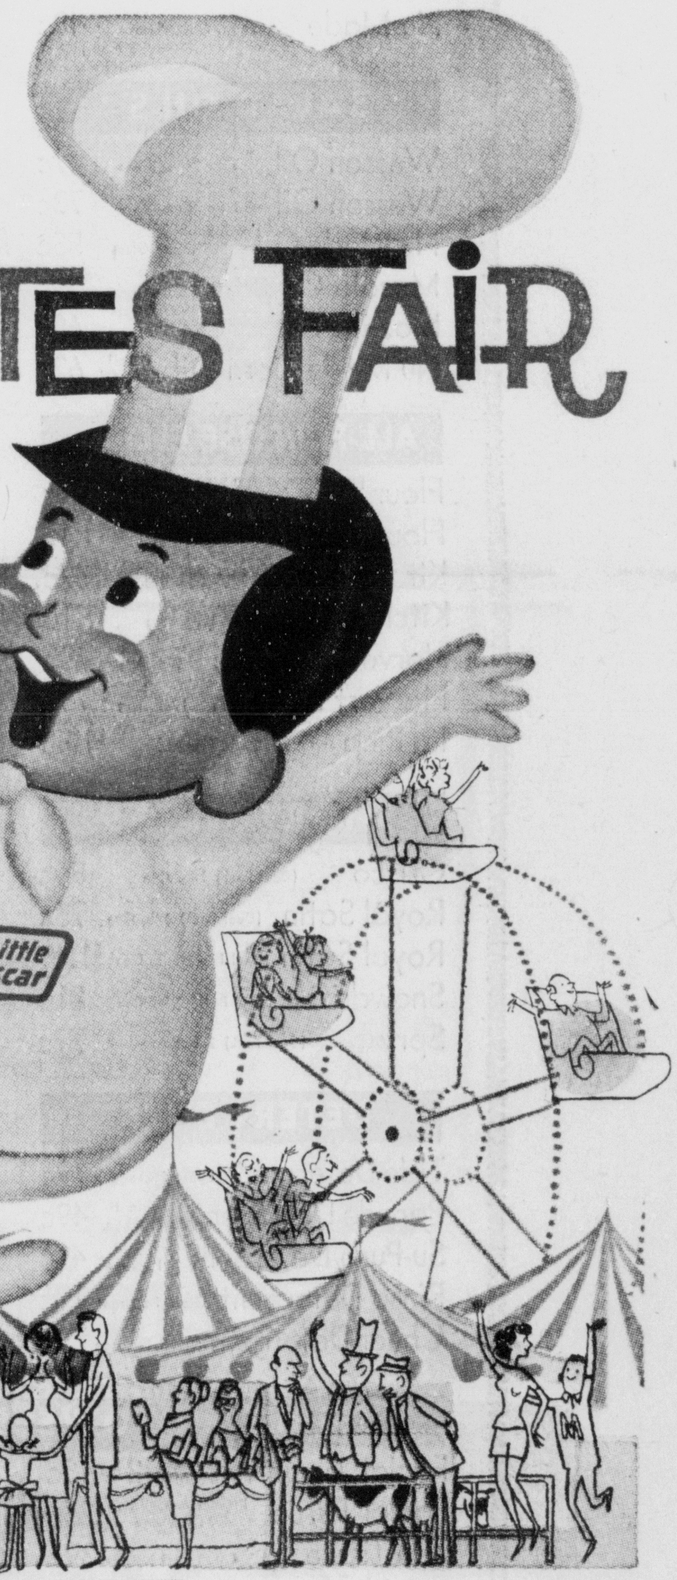

Outdoor Art Club members assisting Mayer will be Mesdames Donald Harper, Fred Greenland and Kenyon Spalding. Single admissions are available at the door before the session starts at 10 a.m.

Cheese It

Almond bacon cheese spread is a high-style sandwich filling. Chop ¼ cup of roasted unblanched almonds into fine bits, Crumble 2 strips of crisp, fried bacon and mix well with the almonds, 1 cup of American cheese, packed, 1 tablespoon of chopped green onion, ½ cup of mayonnaise and ¼ teaspoon of salt.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Auto Show Set Saturday, Sunday At New Art Boates, Sausalito

An automobile show will be staged Saturday and Sunday at Art Boates' new auto repair service at 3000 Bridgeway, Sausalito.

Boates has a new 5000-square foot tilt-up concrete slab building and will transfer business there from 26 El Portal. The name will change from "Art Boates Repair Service" to "Art Boates and Son," as his son Marshall joins the firm.

Boates expects to have about 16 current 1962 models on display, courtesy of several Marin automobile dealers. Expected to furnish cars are Larry Brinks Motors with a Mercury and Rambler, Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet Co., probably with a Chevy and Corvair, Shamrock Motors showing a Citroen and Alpine, Ames Ford Sales with Ford and Falcon and Rossi Garage no doubt with a Mercedes-Benz and Lark or Plymouth and Valiant.

Boates, in business in Marin since 1926, started in Mill Valley, and set up a repair business in Sausalito in 1946.

THE MARIN COUNTY BLUMENFELDS — Abe, Jack, Joseph and Nathan — owners of the Blumenfeld Theater chain — turned over the Country Club Shopping Center in Sacramento last week for a cool seven million dollars. But they will still operate it. The deal was made with a forty-year lease-back clause.

OPEN HOUSE will be observed at the San Francisco International Airport Saturday when civilian aircraft will be grounded during "Operation Skyshield," a military defense maneuver.

Carriers will station aircraft at their usual loading gates and open them to public inspection. Most planes will be open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Types of aircraft on display will range from 10-passenger helicopters to jetliners that carry 100 or more passengers.

JAMES H. STANNARD JR. of Terra Linda, and former mechanical engineer with the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. has opened an office at 420 Market Street, San Francisco.

Stannard and Co. is described as an "integrated engineering service working with other specialty engineers." Stannard, a Stanford graduate, was editor of the San Francisco Engineer, and has written technical papers.

Recruiter Reports 3 Navy Enlistments

Three Navy enlistments through the Marin Navy Recruiting Office at 1116 Fourth Street, San Rafael, were reported today by BMI R. B. Hill, recruiter.

The new "gobs" are James Paul Inden, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lewis Inden of 588 Woodbine Drive, San Rafael; Randolph Edward Nelson, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph A. Nelson of 11 Heather Way, Larkspur, and Lawrence H. Shigaki, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kaye Shigaki of Honolulu. They have been sent to the San Diego Naval Training Center for recruit training.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 11, the 284th day of the year with 81 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1811, the first steam propelled ferry in the world started its run between New York City and Hoboken, N.J.

In 1932, the Democratic National Committee sponsored a television program emanating from New York, the first political telecast in the United States.

In 1945, Chiang Kai-shek and Communist leader Mao Tse-tung issued a joint statement pledging their mutual desires for peace and unity. The pledge was short-lived however. Clashes between Nationalists and Communists caused a resumption of the civil war. Within a month, fighting between the two forces had spread into 11 provinces.

A thought for today: British man of letters Isaac D'Israeli said: "It is a wretched taste to be gratified with mediocrity when the excellent lies before us."

HARVEST

2nd BIG WEEK

... as your response to our ad and message of last week has been so great ... we repeat our food harvest values, again —plus many additional items for your shopping list. To capsulize, because you have shown such interest, we have lowered many shelf prices. This is nothing new in food store operation ... except that more stores lowered more items at one time. Actually we didn't lower as many as some other stores claim. We didn't need to. They were already at the low now equaled by some others due to our volume buying and advance contracting. So—our prices are as low as anyones on a greater selection of fine quality foods. Our produce and meats are lower when you make a quality and service comparison. More than ever before a thirty day budget test of your buying will show you that real savings can be made by shopping at Bon Air.

BON AIR QUALITY MEAT

Select the meats you like—just the way you like them. We have self-serve packaging in quantity and weights. Ten years of serving Marin has given us the experience to anticipate your needs and thereby reduce your shopping time. However, we are just as readily prepared to custom cut any order to your desire. Our butchers are masters in their craft. They not only can buy good meat, cut good meat—but they know how to prepare good meat so that it tastes even better at the dinner table. If you have any questions—don't hesitate to ask them. If they don't know the answer they'll find the answer for you.

Non-Farm Payrolls Climb To New High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The number of Americans on non-farm payrolls climbed to an all-time high of 53.9 million last month, Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg has announced.

Since the recession hit bottom in February, the number of wage and salary workers has risen by 2.6 million, double the normal seasonal increase, Goldberg said.

He expressed particular pleasure that a half million of these workers found jobs in hard goods industries "which bore the brunt of the recession."

Goldberg issued his rosy assessment of the September job picture in conjunction with the labor department's monthly labor force statistics.

The department reported that the number of workers on non-farm payrolls increased by 509 last month to a record 53,920,000. This was 177,000 above the previous record set in September, 1960. The figures do not include farm workers, the self-employed and other non-salaried workers.

Goldberg hailed the job increase as a sign "that we are beginning to make a recovery on the employment and unemployment side," which, he said, generally lags behind recovery in production, income and general business activity.

He expressed hope that the unemployment rate, announced previously as 4,085,000 in September, soon would begin to drop.

The secret police system of Iran is known as "The Eyes and Ears of the King."

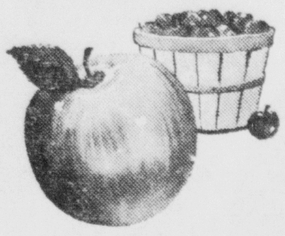

Architect Licenses Issued To Five

Five Marin residents have been issued architect licenses by the California State Board of Architectural Examiners, the board said today.

They are Joe Davis Allen of 581 Marin Avenue, Mill Valley; Edmund C. Heine Jr. of 385 Marin Avenue, Mill Valley; Per Runberg of 601 Idylberry Road, San Rafael; Martin E Stuart of 60 Peninsula Road Belvedere; and Eugene Alan Wedell of 109 Third Street Sausalito.

Learn To Handle Shaky Trump Suit When You Must Settle For 4-3 Fit

A satisfactory trump suit consists of eight trumps in the combined hands. If no such suit is available, you may have to settle for a 4-3 fit (four trumps in your own hand and three trumps in the dummy). Learn how to handle such a trump suit.

South stayed out of three notrump for lack of a diamond stopper. He couldn't tell, after all, that the suit was hopelessly blocked. He stayed out of five clubs for lack of the strength needed for so high a contract.

When North bid three spades, South should have gone to four hearts instead of four spades. If you're going to play a 4-3 trump suit, play a strong suit. North would have made four hearts despite the very bad trump break.

South managed to go down a spectacular amount at four spades. He couldn't have made the contract, but it was foolish to throw away five tricks.

HOPEFUL PLAY: West led the five of diamonds, and East took the ace and king. East then returned a club to South's ace.

South led a trump to dummy's ace, returned a trump to the king, and then led a third trump. He reasoned that he needed a 3-3 trump break to make the contract, and he played in the hope of getting such a break.

West joyfully drew the rest of the trumps and ran the rest of his diamonds. The defenders thus got seven diamond tricks and two trumps. Down six.

On the second round of trumps South should finesse the ten from his hand. If the trumps break, South can draw them when he regains the lead. If they don't break, South keeps control of the hand and can limit the loss to one trick.

When handling a shaky trump suit, give up an early trick to keep control.

Castor Bean Plant Called Child Killer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— The castor bean plant was called a potential back yard child killer in testimony yesterday before the Assembly Interim Agricultural Committee.

It also was defended as an expected good source of income for California farmers.

Both descriptions were given in a committee hearing on a proposed bill to ban the growing of the castor bean plant in the state's unincorporated areas where children might have access to the poisonous castor bean.

Mrs. Richard Hans of Irvington, Alameda County, asked enactment of the bill. She said her 3-year-old girl, Robin, nearly died after eating nine beans from a plant in a neighbor's yard.

The child was rushed to a hospital and her stomach pumped within a few minutes after she suffered convulsions, Mrs. Hans said.

She said that in 1959 there were 53 cases of poisoning by the castor bean plant.

Her argument was supported by Dr. Arthur B. Emmes of Costro Valley, speaking in behalf of the Hayward area safety council.

Emmes said that as the result of action by the council and other citizens, seven municipalities in southern Alameda County had adopted ordinances barring the growing of the castor bean plant in residential areas.

An official of a vegetable oil corporation which processes the castor bean told the committee "We see definitely a need for some type of control" of the plant in public areas but he cautioned that such control should not be detrimental to agricultural production of the plant.

Joseph R. Smith, vice president of the Pacific Vegetable Oil Corp., San Francisco, said the industry was concerned over the bill's requirement that castor bean planting should be fenced.

Smith said such a restriction would be detrimental to growers for a crop which could not be grown consecutively on the same acreage.

Smith said the castor bean is in demand for use in manufacture of paints, varnishes and lubricants and is a potential source of income for farmers.

Smith said there are about 1,800 acres of castor beans grown in California's interior valleys and the crop nets the grower from $50 to $60 an acre.

U.S. Recovery Being Hurt By Auto Disputes

NEW YORK (AP)—Piecemeal work stoppages in the auto industry are upsetting the time schedule for at least a part of the business recovery. The resulting slowdown in total industrial output frets the way-out optimists.

But a calmer view is that the economy as a whole has become so complex that even trouble in the important auto industry does not pull the weight today it did a decade or two back.

The general economy remains healthy—not booming as some hoped it would be by now—but hardly running into trouble yet as some fear.

The industries that supply the auto makers, notably steel, are hit by the work stoppages, first at General Motors, then at Ford, with Chrysler labor negotiations still to reach the showdown stage. To these industries the slowdown is indeed disappointing.

But the whole economy is now weighted so much by a growing number of industries and even more spectacularly by the increasing role of services, that Detroit's troubles are serious but scarcely fatal to recovery hopes for increasing general prosperity in the months ahead.

Even before the delay in total labor peace in the auto industry, some economists were warning against expecting the unusually brisk pace of the recovery, in late spring and early summer, from the brief and relatively mild recession to be maintained throughout the year. They look for a steady but slower gain for a time.

The auto labor troubles are painful enough to many suppliers, however. The steel industry had looked for a big jump ahead in October. Instead, total orders from the auto firms have been trimmed, or at best set back, by the piecemeal shutdowns. Steel now talks hopefully about November and December.

Other industries that would like to see auto production in full swing in these, the opening months of the new model year, include glass, rubber, plastics, textiles, aluminum, copper, lead.

Just how much of final demand is being delayed, and how much is lost, by the auto plant shutdowns is yet to be determined.

But as important as auto buying by consumers is, their total spending is more significant in timing the course of a business recovery. They have many other ways of spending their money. So far they have been spending just about as much money as ever—neither pulling in their horns very much during the recession, nor aggressively buying during the recovery.

A number of pulse takers report consumer buying attitudes are improving. If so, business in general will be much happier.

The spending plans of business itself—whether for inventories or for increased production or for expansion — are looking a little brighter.

So the months ahead should be good, in the view of most economists, but only a few are predicting anything yet that could be labeled an outstanding boom.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE SALE

On Wednesday, the 25th day of October, 1961, at the hour of 2:30 o'clock P.M., of said day, at the Fourth Street entrance of the Court House in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, MARIN TITLE GUARANTY COMPANY, a California corporation, as trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, the following described real property, situated in the County of Marin, State of California, and described as follows, to-wit:

That part of the land embraced in that certain deed from Reedlands, Inc., to Suburban Properties, Inc., recorded in the office of the Recorder of the County of Marin, in State of California, in Book 1327 of Official Records, at page 532, shown as Lots Numbers 7 and 8 on the "Tentative Map of The Reedlands Unit 4", prepared by Daniel Coleman Engineering Company, on July 30, 1959, a copy of which map is attached to, as a part of, and recorded with said deed and which map is incorporated herein and made a part hereof by reference thereto. The Trustee hereunder, without further consent or authority from the beneficiary, its successors or assigns, upon instruction from, and with the joinder of, the then owner or owners of said land, is authorized and directed to execute from time to time all documents necessary to amend or modify this Deed of Trust to the extent that this Deed of Trust as so modified or amended shall describe with certainty the location and description of the property intended to be covered hereby. Trustee agrees for itself, and its successors and assigns to execute such modification immediately following the recordation of the subdivision map, and Trustee may presume he is making a proper amendment of description when he has received certification thereof from a Licensed Surveyor. The Trustee hereunder, without further consent or authority from the beneficiary, its successors or assigns, and upon request of the then owner or owners of said land, is further authorized and directed to sign as such trustee any subdivision map for all or any portion of the property described herein. The recordation of this Deed of Trust shall be conclusive proof that the Trustor and beneficiary have accepted and approved all of the foregoing terms and conditions.

Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances to satisfy the obligation secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in a certain deed of trust executed by REEDLAND HEIGHTS, INC., a California corporation, which acquired title as REEDLANDS HEIGHTS, INC., a California corporation, trustor, to MARIN TITLE GUARANTY COMPANY, a California corporation, as trustee, for the benefit and security of BERTRAND J. DIFFERENT

A really unusual home for different people! No eating space in the kitchen here—you either eat standing up or else on the plush carpet in a huge beamed ceiling living room. You don't have a family room because the space was used by a long wide picture gallery hallway. You have to hike 83 feet from one end of the house to the other, and before you even get to this secluded paradise of non-conformity you have to drive up a big hill after coming all the way to Sleepy Hollow, which is too far to commute anyway. Oh! yes, the builder made such conventional mistakes as 3 bedrooms and 2 baths, also stuck in a SWIMMING POOL square on one end and round on the other, but large enough to get wet in. Name your terms. Excellent financing. $29,950.

THIS IS A CONDIMINIUM?—It has all the appearance of a modern two-story apartment house, but each dwelling unit will be owned outright by its occupant, who will also hold an undivided interest in common with his neighbors in other structural components, easements and the land. It it one of four buildings in the Everglade Glen development on Novato Street, East San Rafael.

1st Marin Condiminium Apartment To Be Displayed This Weekend

The first condiminium apartment in Marin ready to offer completed "apartment-homes" for sale will display a furnished model unit Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 78 Novato Street, San Rafael.

The development, known as Everglade Townhouses, is owned and under construction by Spiliotis and Co., San Rafael building contractors.

In the eyes of the California Division of Real Estate, it was technically a home subdivision and subject to the department's approval as such, despite the fact the land was not subdivided for the apartments. This approval was granted last week, making it the first condiminium in the state to be passed as a "subdivision" after most of it was already built, according to Spiliotis and Co.

The Everglade development is situated on one and one-half acres along Novato Street just east of Canal Street. Proposed are six two-story buildings, of which four have already been erected. Each building contains six three-bedroom apartments.

Each apartment is arranged with the living room, dining area, all-electric kitchen, half-bath and single carport on the first floor and the three bedrooms and full bath on the second story. Living area occupies 1,250 square feet of floor space, excluding the carport.

A 20 by 40-foot swimming pool is being constructed to serve all 36 apartments. Initial landscaping will be provided as well as individual rear patios

Spiliotis said his firm owns another 10 acres adjoining the property where he expects to build additional units all on one level.

The word "condiminium" still has an unfamiliar ring to many ears.

Used in connection with multiple housing it is distinguished from a regular or cooperative apartment building in that each occupant owns his apartment outright instead of leasing it or owning shares in a controlling corporation. He may sell his holdings the same as any other piece of real estate.

Until recently there has been a reluctance on the part of lenders and title companies to become involved because of the failure of deeds to delineate correctly and clearly the nature of the estate being granted. The problem has now been solved in the case of the Everglade development and for many others by defining the boundary line of each dwelling unit as the inside surface of its perimeter walls. To this portion of the property the occupant receives fee title.

Other structural members, common easements for ingress, egress and utilities, other improvements and the land itself are owned by all the occupants together as tenants in common, each holding an undivided fractional interest in the whole.

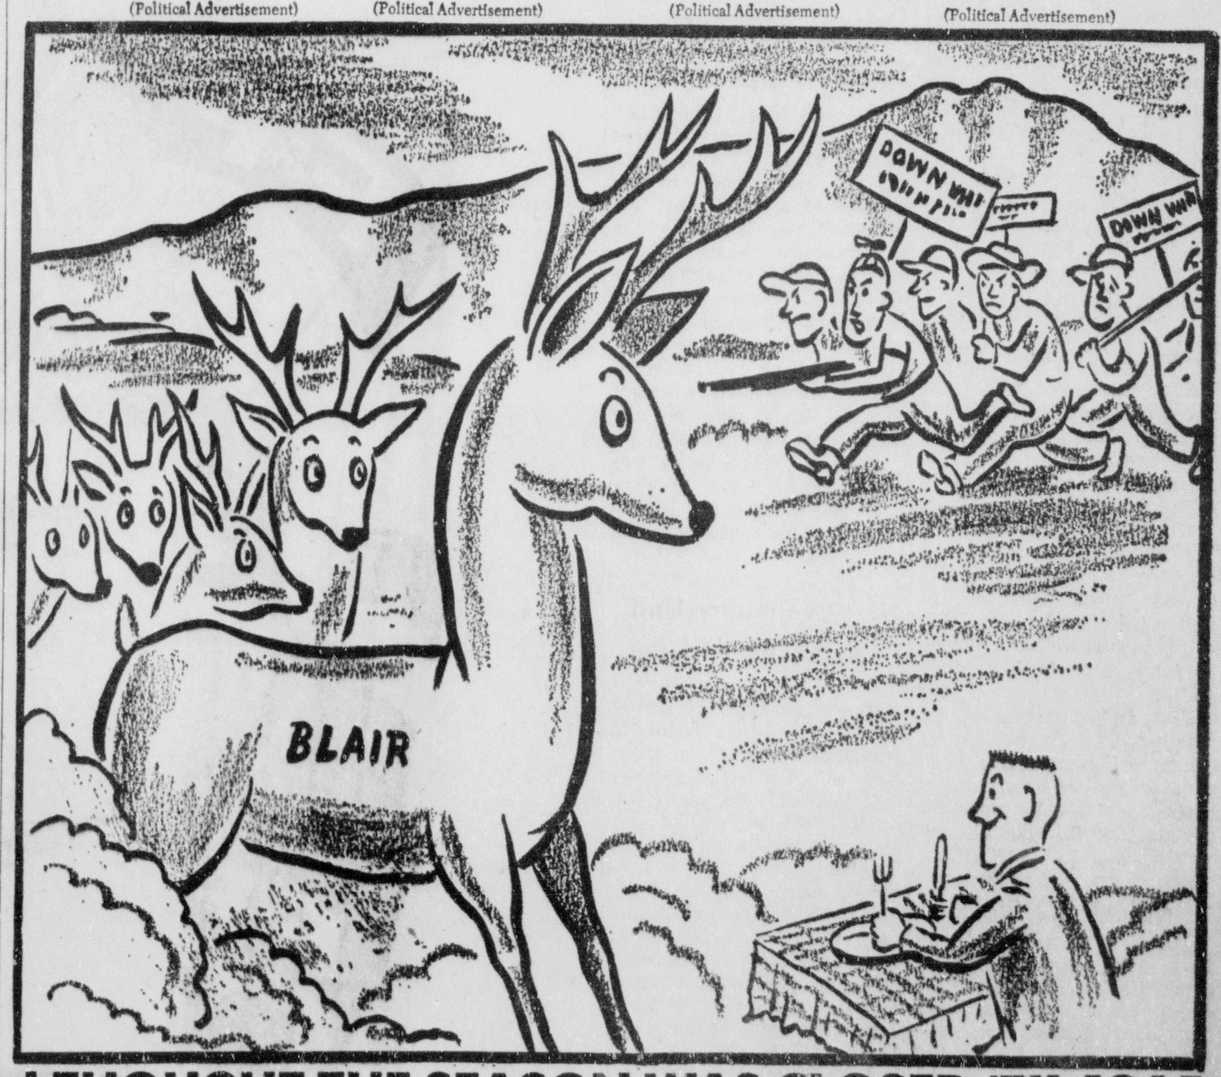

Spiliotis said that when 50 per cent of the Everglade apartment - homes have been sold, occupants will elect their own board of five governors to manage common interests and maintain buildings and improvements.

The development is listed under the name of Everglade Glen Co. with real estate broker Gary C. Brown, 32 Front Street, San Rafael, as sales agent.

HOME AWAY FROM HOME — Carl W. Sitchler, 21, and Robert H. Miller, 20, both specialists fourth class with D Battery, 4th Missile Battalion (Nike-Hercules), 67th Artillery, Santa Venetia, have game of chess at the USO in San Francisco. At the snack bar is Donna Stone, volunteer worker. The club is one of 226 scattered through the world for armed forces personnel. (U.S. Army photo)

How USO Is Helping Armed Forces Members

This is the last of four articles citing examples of services by United Crusade agencies in terms of need. Today's article describes the USO and its world-wide program for members of the armed forces.

"Home away from home" is one definition of the United Service Organizations.

"Bridge between our military personnel and civilian population at home and abroad" is another.

Hundreds of Marin Countians have become familiar with the USO clubs and shows while in the armed forces during the "shooting war" years and in the "cold war" years since.

Today, with more being called into service because of the military build-up, the USO is again in the spotlight.

Letters home from Marin's young men and women stationed in more than 200 places in the United States and 26 abroad may contain references to USO clubs. These are located in the U.S. near large training centers; at big-city leave and travel points; in Alaska; and outside the U.S. in Korea, Japan, Okinawa, Philippine Islands, Guam, Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, West Indies, Greenland, Iceland, Labrador, The Azores, Spain, France, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Saudi Arabia, and Mediterranean ports for the Navy's Sixth Fleet.

In addition, some 2,000 live shows are staged annually for GI audiences overseas.

Millions of cups of coffee are served at USO clubs. And not only in this way does the USO offer the GI a welcome touch of home. Last year, some 36,000,000 club visits were counted; 7,000,000 servings at snack bars; 5,000,000 questions answered; 113,000 service families counseled about marital or personal problems; 116,000 GI families located in suitable housing; 7,000,000 GI's accommodated overnight. Many doubtless were from Marin.

USO closest to Marin is the San Francisco club at 1017 Market Street, where some 40,000 soldiers, sailors, marines and airmen a year play games, watch TV, obtain information, are given free theater tickets, go to parties and classes, and take advantage of a dozen other services. Here, as in other USO's, the club staff is assisted by volunteers.

To offer all this at the San Francisco club and others around the world takes the combined efforts of six member agencies which formed the USO (United Service Organizations, Inc.) in 1941. They are the YMCA, YWCA, Salvation Army, National Catholic Community Service, National Jewish Welfare Board, and National Travelers Aid Association.

The USO is supported primarily through the United Funds and Community Chests of America. Last year Marin Countians through the United Crusade campaign contributed $2,350 to the USO's overall budget of approximately $8,500,000.

San Jose Schools Let Drain Job

A $7,375 contract for drainage at the San Jose intermediate school site was awarded Monday night to O. C. Jones and Sons of Berkeley by the San Jose School District board.

Jones was low of three bidders on the job. Springs and rains had delayed installing a concrete drainage ditch on the north and west side of the school site by the original contractor, Piombo Brothers of San Rafael.

The board also approved the $1,000 for the first of five annual payments on the $4,962 sanitary sewer connection charge on the Pacheco School. The school was in the Hamilton Air Force Base sewage disposal system when it was built. Two years ago, Novato Sanitary District took over the sewage system and made the charge for the school.

A list of minimum equipment for each school was adopted by the board. It then voted to spend $4,528 to bring each school's equipment up to the minimum.

Mrs. Patricia E. Gish was hired to teach a combination first and second grade class at Meadow Park School.

State Scholarship Unit Meeting Set

State advisers of the California Scholarship Federation will meet in Marin Saturday in their annual advisers' conference, this one marking the 40th anniversary of the organization.

The 200 advisers, representing high schools throughout the state, the University of California, state colleges and private colleges and universities, will gather at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Ignacio, for a day-long session.

Host and organizer of the meeting is John M. Corley, Northern California vice president of the organization and chairman of the language department at San Rafael Military Academy.

Volunteers Elect

Novato Volunteer Firemen have elected Robert Manzoni James Hovis, who resigned because he is moving away from Novato. Manzoni's term will run until December, when the association holds its annual election.

School Library Funds Approved

Sausalito School District trustees has approved expenditure of $500 for library books for the four schools in the district, to match a like sum given by the Central-Bayside Parent-Teacher Assn.
sum given by the Central-Bayside Parent-Teacher Assn.

Trustees approved employment of Daniel T. Burns of 524 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, of bus driver-custodian to replace Eugene Vance, who left the area. Burns salary is $349.

Trustee Stanley Wolfe was designated as liaison to work between the school district and trustees of the Sausalito Public Library.

Novato Sanitary Unit Approves Bonds Sale

Novato Sanitary District trustees have approved sale of $21,631 in district bonds to Mason Brothers of San Francisco on a low bid of 4.66 per cent interest. The bonds will run 15 years on a small assessment district on Shields and Sun lanes.

The board also called for bids for Nov. 8 on a chain link fence around the sludge ponds and for plant improvements, including additional pumping facilities, at the disposal plant. The engineers estimate on these is $5,000 for the fence and $6,500 on plant improvements.

Motel Granted Bar By Novato Planners

The Novato Planning Commission Monday night granted Chris A. Baseheart permission to establish a bar in conjunction with a restaurant at the Skylark Motel at 5613 Redwood Highway.

However, the commission held up approval of architecture of the addition for the bar and a poolside dressing room at the motel, which is owned by David Bellucci. A committee of the commission was appointed to make an inspection.

Dr. Sidney R. Kerston was granted an addition to the medical-dental building at 1223 Grant Avenue, provided the addition not extend beyond the rear of the existing building.

Herbert B. Neu was granted permission to erect an ice vending machine at Vallejo Avenue and Highway 101.

The tentative may of Sutter Hills Unit No. 1, on Midway Boulevard in Lynwood Heights, was approved.

A hearing was set for 8 p.m. Nov. 27 on rezoning a parcel at the northwest corner of Center Road and South Novato Boulevard from multiple residential to commercial, as requested by Al Tresch.

Congress Candidacy

WOODLAND (UPI) — Mel Lucas, president and general manager of radio station KAAT of Woodland, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination to Congress from the newly-formed fourth district.

Another Logging Firm Charges In Forrest Act

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Another Northern California logging firm was charged with violation of the State Forest Practice Act in the state's drive to clean up logging conditions.

The Division of Forestry filed the complaint against Rasor and Sons, Inc., of Happy Camp, and a hearing was set for Oct. 31 in Eureka.

State Forester F. H. Raymond charged the firm with failure to eliminate highly dangerous logging debris for fire prevention purposes and failure to leave sufficient seed trees for reproduction.

The firm is the eighth to be charged with violating the forest practices act in the coast several months. The other seven lost their state logging permits.
